GC street post made appointive

Decided by 11-2

By HARRY BARNES
Press-Record Staff Writer

In a surprise move that apparently had been kept a well-guarded secret, a majority of Granite City Council members acted Tuesday night to change the post of superintendent of streets from an elective to an appointive office.

The change was accomplished in enactment of an ordinance amending Section One of City Ordinance 2011, providing that the office of city street superintendent be filled by appointment after expiration of the present term of Street Superintendent Lionel Portell May 1, 1979.

Portell told the Press-Record that the move came as a "complete surprise" to him. The ordinance, approved by an 11 to 2 vote, was presented in the regular order of business by Alderman Roy Poulos as chairman of the Ordinance Committee.

There had been no advance reports of the action, which had backing by enough aldermen to guarantee a suspension of rules (requiring a two-thirds vote) to place the ordinance on final passage. Ten aldermanic votes are required for rules suspension.

Text of the ordinance presented by Poulos follows:

"That pursuant to paragraphs 3-7-1 of Chapter 24, Illinois Revised Statutes, 1975, the office of superintendent of streets shall be changed from an elective office as provided for in Section One of Ordinance 2011 of the City of Granite City, Illinois, passed Nov. 8, 1961, to an appointive office of the term upon the completion of the term

Miss Dorothy Redmond dies

Miss Dorothy Ann Redmond, 57, of 8414 Fuerte Court, Alexandria, Va., ill for one year, died at 4 a.m. Tuesday at the Circle Terrace Hospital, Alexandria.

A native of Granite City, Miss Redmond was employed as a civilian librarian for the U.S. Army for 20 years. She was assigned to Fort Leonard Wood for some time and was transferred to Fort Belvoir, Va., six months ago.

At the end of his brief remarks the gathering, he urged those present to write to aldermen and the mayor, and also to attend a council meeting Tuesday night, May 3, to urge that the action be reversed.

No one else addressed the assembly. Many of those present had been active in the April 5 municipal election on behalf of citywide and ward candidates associated with a Partney-Portell-Nonn-Allen

Opposed at rally

A rally in support of Granite City Street Superintendent Lionel Portell, opposing Tuesday night's City Council action changing the superintendent of streets from an elected to an appointed position — took place outside City Hall Wednesday afternoon.

About 75 persons attended, some carrying signs.

Although the rally began at 1 p.m., Supt. Portell did not address the gathering until 2 p.m. Standing on exterior steps at the western end of the building, he said his is "another office that is going to be taken away from the people."

Superintendent since 1971, Portell, 45, said Tuesday's action was "by a lame duck City Council going out of office. It was done very smoothly."

"I do not feel so badly for myself, but the appointment will be made by a small group — not here at City Hall, but somewhere else," he predicted.

Portell thanked those who attended the rally on short notice. He said later that a small group began at 11 a.m. Wednesday to notify friends of the rally and to request their attendance.

At the end of his brief remarks the gathering, he urged those present to write to aldermen and the mayor, and also to attend a council meeting Tuesday night, May 3, to urge that the action be reversed.

On and off the record

First lady's secretary calls

"The White House is calling." Tuesday's call was routed promptly to Sister Mary Thomas, president of St. Elizabeth Hospital, who learned that the voice on the telephone was that of a Miss Palmer, secretary to First Lady Rosalyn Carter, wife of President Jimmy Carter.

Because of Mrs. Carter's interest in mental health, the Granite City hospital had invited her by letter to be guest speaker at its April 13 groundbreaking celebration. Expansion of the hospital here will include a new 50-bed psychiatric hospital building. Days passed. The groundbreaking was held and there was still no word from Washington, not even a note citing prior commitments.

Then came the phone call. Explaining that Mrs. Carter and her staff had "red faces when we found the letter," Miss Palmer said it "must have been caught up in a backlog of mail."

She expressed appreciation for the invitation and voiced regret on Mrs. Carter's behalf. "We usually respond by mail, but felt we should extend a personal call in this case," Miss Palmer added.

Commenting on the conversation, Sister Mary Thomas said, "It was a thoughtful gesture."

"The call was something they didn't have to do. It was very nice."

Grassroots government

Pontoon Village Board 7:30 p.m. today, April, 28, at Village Hall.

Ask citizens' road priority

Increased citizen participation in determining the budgets and projects of Namok Township was pledged during the newly-elected board's first meeting Monday

New Highway Commissioner Frank Mehelic requested citizens and precinct committeemen present ideas to him and the Town Board on needed highway projects so they can be put into a list of priorities for the highway department.

Norman Hessler, chairman of the board's finance committee, reported the town fund and revenue sharing budgets should be completed sometime this week. He requested final requests for budget items be presented to the committee as soon as possible.

Hessler noted programs now being considered for funding in the revenue sharing budget include continuation of the three-year-old environmental cleanup program; salaries, bookkeeping and auditing for those handling the funds; aid toward a new Long Lake Volunteer Fire Department building and additional fireplugs in the township.

Also, payment of a $3,557 obligation to the city of Madison for paving alleys in East Madison; a tornado warning system for Arlington Heights, which will be on a 50-per cent

Use permits' end is urged

A recommendation that the city abolish its system of use permits which authorize operation of small businesses in non-commercial areas was made to the Granite City Council Tuesday night by David Morgan, chairman of the City Plan Commission.

Morgan told the aldermen that issuance of use permits "is only a method of circumventing the zoning law" and are resulting in a multiplicity of small businesses in residential areas "all over the city."

Morgan's recommendation was in response to a request in the April 19 council session by Alderman Emerald Dawes of the Seventh Ward who asked that the present regulations governing use permits be amended to limit a permit to the business for which it originally was issued.

That request followed a report by the plan commission that a use permit originally issued to B. C. Gtcho for a real estate office at 2861 Madison Ave., is to be used for a chiropractor's office. Dawes

Begin plant construction

By WALTER STRANGE
Press-Record Staff Writer

Construction of a new $2 million facility of the Western Steel Co. in the Maers Industrial Park, Madison, began Monday at 11:30 p.m. with groundbreaking ceremonies at the site.

Construction and preparation of the plant are expected to take five to six months. Leo Wolf Co. is building the plant on eight acres of the park.

Bonds totaling $2 million have been sold by the city. Bonds will be retired by the company.

The First National Bank in Madison purchased $100,000 of the bonds. First Granite City National Bank, bought $400,000, and the Marchester Bank of St. Louis bought $1 1/2 million of the issue.

Following the groundbreaking, Madison Mayor Mike Sasyk hosted an informal lunch at the Madison Fire Hall.

Mayor Sasyk, in brief remarks, said, "on behalf of myself, the City Council and the people of Madison, I want to thank the officers, directors of Southwestern Steel Supply Co. and the banks for showing confidence in our city and this project."

"Your facility," he said to Preston Green, president of the steel company, "will be an asset to National Steel and all the other steel companies in the area."

Jobs today are important to our people, and again on behalf of the people of Madison, I want to thank you for locating here," Sasyk said.

Green said, "This is the culmination of a 10-year dream that became active about three years ago. About one year ago, we solved some of our problems and got started on this project in

MRS. ROBERT E. GANN, the former Miss Janet L. Jakich who was married in an afternoon ceremony at St. Elizabeth Roman Catholic Church. She is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Jakich, 2233 Waterman Ave.

Gann-Jakich wedding at St. Elizabeth Church

St. Elizabeth Roman Catholic Church was the scene of the wedding on April 23 of Miss Janet L. Jakich, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Jakich, 2233 Waterman Ave., and Robert E. Gann, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Laverle Smith, 2448 Illinois Ave.

Altar bouquets of white snapdragons interspersed with carnations in rainbow colors and greenery and white satin bows with sprigs of ferns marking the pews, provided the setting for the double ring ceremony performed at 2 o'clock in the afternoon by the Rev. Kenneth Beck.

Organist Jim Mayranek accompanied Mrs. Margaret MacZura as she sang, "Our Father," "On This Day O Beautiful Mother" and Miss Debbie Hawkins sang, "Sunrise, Sunset" accompanied by Miss Carla Reynolds on the guitar.

Escorted to the altar by her father, the bride wore a gown her mother had worn for her wedding 30 years ago.

The full-length dress was fashioned in white embossed tulle accented with hand sewn pearls, creating decorative motifs on the bodice and full skirt, which extended into a cathedral train.

Long tapered sleeves terminating with points over the wrists were set into a molded bodice designed with a sweetheart neckline.

Her lace edged cathedral length veil of bridal illusion was held in place with a halo of white roses, ivy leaves and baby's breath. She carried a cascade of ivy, sprengeri, fern, white roses and phalaenopsis orchids.

Maid of honor Miss Jeanette Shipp wore a formal green silk organza over taffeta gown created with a small train caught in the back with a silk rose and ruffles.

Bridesmaids, Mrs. Mary Jakich, a sister-in-law of the bride, Miss Pam Richardson and Miss Sandy Hall, wore identical gowns in yellow, apricot and blue.

Each attendant held a cascade of sprengeri fern, and miniature carnations in hues to match her attire.

Kellie Ratliff, the flower girl, was dressed in a long pink silk organza frock with a hoop skirt and short sleeves. She carried a small cascade of fern and carnations.

Rickey Kibort, a cousin of the bride, served as the ringbearer. Attending the groom as best man was David May.

Groomsmen and ushers included Mike Jakich, the bride's brother, Edward Dellamano, Daniel Whitehead, Richard Gann, a brother of the groom and Dale Shipp.

Miss Angela Jakich, a cousin of the bride, attended the guest book at a reception held at the Polish Hall in Madison, for 325 guests.

Mr. and Mrs. Smith, parents of the groom, entertained members of the wedding party and their families at a rehearsal dinner held in their home.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Jakich selected a long green gown enhanced with beading and complimented with a matching jacket.

Mrs. Smith, mother of the groom, was attired in a full length coral dress worn with a pleated cape. Both mothers wore white jacket orchid corsages.

The former Miss Jakich is a June 1976 graduate of Granite City High School North and is now working as a beautician for Rosette's Beauty Studio, University City, Mo.

A South High School graduate, the groom is presently employed as a welder at the A. O. Smith Corp.

After a wedding trip to the Missouri Ozarks, the newly married couple will reside in Granite City.

Among the 25 voices are a number of retired ministers, ministers wives and widows. Virgil Lambert, also a resident of the United Methodist Village, is the director of the choir.

A covered dish dinner with the visiting choir as guests will follow the service. An invitation is extended to the public to attend. The church is located on Pontoon Road at Primrose Ave. according to the Rev. William Fester, pastor.

Many common plants deadly

By MARY RICHARDS
Illinois Department of Public Health
Many of us view the summer months as an opportunity to "get back to nature" by spending a lot of time outdoors.
While the fresh air and sensible amounts of sunshine are good for us, there are some natural summertime hazards to watch out for.
One thing to be cautious about is plants. About 50 per cent of our common garden plants, as well as many wild plants, are poisonous.

A single bite of certain mushrooms, for example, can be fatal.
Rhubarb leaves, dieffenbachia, the ever-popular rhododendron, Daphne, jimson weed, oleander, cherry and peach leaves, yew and nightshade are all poisonous.

Children should be taught never to eat or put into their mouths any plant or berry not commonly used as food.
Many varieties which animals eat without ill effects can be harmful to humans.
The Illinois Department of Public Health warns that there are no safe ways to test for poisonous plants.
Children playing in the yard may eat poisonous leaves or berries.

Just a few berries from the Daphne, a plant often found in rock gardens, can kill a child.
The leaves of the peach tree contain hydrocyanic acid, one of the most dangerous poisons known. Children have been known to use these leaves for "tea" in make-believe parties.
The pretty oleander, grown indoors and outdoors, is among the most deadly of plants. It contains a heart stimulant so deadly that a single leaf can kill a child.

Deaths have been reported by people who simply speared meat on an oleander twig and roasted it over a fire.
The wisteria may cause mild to severe digestive upset, while the yew can produce sudden death.
In some instances, only parts of a plant are poisonous.
Rhubarb is an example. The stalk, of course, is edible and especially delicious in pies. But the leaf blades can be fatal.

Following is a list of the more common poisonous plants and their toxic parts.
House plants: hyacinth, narcissus, daffodil (bulbs), oleander (leaves and branches), dieffenbachia (dumb cane), elephant ear (all parts), rosary pea, castor bean (seeds).
Flower garden plants:
larkspur (young plant seeds),
monkshood (fleshy roots), autumn crocus, star-of-Bethlehem (bulbs), lily-of-the-valley (leaves and flowers), iris (underground stems), foxglove

(leaves), bleeding heart (foliage and roots).
Ornamental plants: Daphne (berries), wisteria (seeds and pods), golden chain (bean-like capsules in which the seeds are suspended), laurel, rhododendron, azaleas (all parts), jessamine (berries), red sage (green berries), yew (berries and foliage).

Plants in fields: buttercup
(all parts), nightshade (all parts, especially the unripe berries), poison hemlock (all parts).

Plants in swamps or moist areas: water hemlock (all parts).
Plants in fields: buttercup
(all parts), nightshade (all parts, especially the unripe
berries), poison hemlock (all parts) jimson weed or thorn apple (all parts).

Zoning

said at that time that he was under the impression that a use permit was to expire after the business for which it was issued no longer existed.

City Attorney George Filcoff told Dawes that under the city's present zoning law, use permits could be used for different businesses in the same location so long as those businesses were compatible.

Dawes then asked that an amendment to the zoning law be brought in, providing that once a business for which a permit was issued no longer existed, the property revert to its original zoning.

In response to that request, Morgan appeared at the council session Tuesday night to urge a revision of the zoning law so it applies to use permits. Such permits normally are issued to small businesses for professional offices in areas that are not zoned commercial. Frequently these offices or businesses are in homes, or in residences remodeled for office use.

"When the law permitting use permits was passed in 1966, it opened a Pandora's box resulting in all kinds of problems," Morgan said.

"It is my recommendation that you do away with use permits and revise the commercial classification for zoning into a number of different categories that would accommodate the different types of businesses."

In that way, Morgan said, the plan commission, the city council and the city planning commission will have definite guidelines in determining qualifications for zoning.

He told the aldermen that he had discussed revision of the zoning law with Theodore Miksell, of the Southwestern Illinois Metropolitan Area and Regional Planning Commission, but explained that "they are talking about a dollar amount" for the revision. Morgan said the dollar amount mentioned "is quite a bit of money."

Morgan said he thought the city could do the job itself by revising the commercial zoning classifications.

"We hope we can change this (use permits) because we (the plan commission) didn't like it in the first place," he said.

Mayor Paul Schuler remarked that the city is "going to have to set some kind of a plan."

Dawes, however, said that such a revision as proposed by Morgan would require considerable time.

"Consequently, I believe we should proceed with an amendment to the law to limit use permits to the purpose for which they are issued," Dawes said.

Dawes said the amendment would prohibit widespread use of such permits until commercial zoning requirements can be reclassified.

BILL TO BAR IMPEDING EMERGENCY VEHICLES

The House Executive Committee has approved by a vote of 18-20 a bill introduced by Rep. Wyvetter H. Young (D-57th) to amend an act concerning public utilities.

The bill would require every dispatcher in charge of railroad traffic in Chicago and East St. Louis switching districts who receives notification that a train is obstructing travel of an emergency vehicle to immediately notify the train. After receiving notification, the person in charge of the train would have to immediately take action to permit passage of the emergency vehicle.

"I am looking forward to working with Mike for another four years. I have found a real warmth in this community and I think it is fantastic."

"We plan to build a facility that does not exist anywhere and it will be the most modern in art and science. I would like to say thanks to everyone who has helped us," Green said.

The mayor then thanked his wife, Mrs. Wilma Sasyk, Mrs. Julie Voloski and Mrs. Karen Bridick for preparing the luncheon.

political group.

That group generally opposed incumbent city officials, alleging that those in office constituted a "machine."

Portell indicated he feels the change to appointive procedure is an effort to end his service as the top street department official after April 30, 1979. His present four-year term began in 1975.

The superintendent told the Press-Record after Wednesday's talk that he feels the City Council action is "punishment because I did not follow party lines in the election and, secondly, I expressed too much opposition to Nameoki sewer system repairs costing the city too much money."

"Some of the signs displayed read:

"We want to elect the superintendent of streets, not have him picked for us."

"Some of our elected officials are doing what they want, not what the people want."

"Who runs Granite City? The people or the machine?"

The people say the superintendent post to remain elective. "If the superintendent is not doing his job, let the people say so in two years. Two years ago he won by a two-thirds majority," David Partney said.

Portell, born in Cadet, Mo., has been a local resident 30 years. Before becoming superintendent of streets, he was a city street department employee for 14 years, including four years as a working foreman.

Implicit in the viewpoint of a number of those present was the assertion that "citizen-versus-politician" issues are involved, despite the fact that the "citizen faction" includes political party officers and public officials.

Mrs. Alice McGee, a Precinct

14 Democratic committee official, said she feels the decision to change a citywide office from elective to appointive could make it more difficult to attract the public to cast votes on public offices.

"As precinct committeemen, we are fighting apathy," she commented.

"We are fighting the people who say, 'Why should I vote? The city officials will just do as they please, anyway.'"

"This proves that they are right," Mrs. McGee said.

Charlie Douglas, a new First Ward alderman, commented, "It is obviously a political maneuver and a show of power by the officials, consisting of lame duck aldermen."

"The action denies the right that the people of Granite City have had for a long time to elect their superintendent of streets. This political retribution is a disgrace."

David Partney, brother of one of the April 5 mayor candidates and a principal strategist in the mayor-council election campaign, has quoted Supt. Portell frequently in an effort to decrease public confidence in other officials.

He was present at the rally and said he wants the superintendent post to remain elective. "If the superintendent is not doing his job, let the people say so in two years. Two years ago he won by a two-thirds majority," David Partney said.

be obtained free through the county; and health and drainage programs.

Also being considered in preparing the budgets, Hessler said, are financial aid to the State Park and Nameoki volunteer police units, and funds to provide transportation and equipment for men assigned to the township under the new fire truck.

He agreed to again study the legality of a grant to the State Park Fire Department for a new fire truck.

Hessler said the anticipated income to the revenue sharing fund is about $92,000, all of which is to be appropriated in the new budgets.

He added that a public hearing is not required for the revenue sharing budget, but the township intends to conduct hearings on both the town fund and revenue sharing fund budgets May 31. He pledged the budgets will be posted for public inspection before May 2.

Hessler suggested a group be formed to study road problems throughout the township and advise the highway department on needed improvements.

Hessler suggested the precinct committee's group could serve that function.

Mehelic said he has yet to determine priorities for the work, but some of the programs he intends to complete includes accepting the Arlington Heights roads into the township jurisdiction, installing reflective street signs to replace some which do not reflect light, and working with the state for crossing lights at the Mockingbird Lane railroad crossing.

Joseph Boyer, unsuccessful trustee candidate, suggested some thought be given to installing a traffic signal light system on Route 203 at the entrance to Eagle Park Acres and Mehelic said he plans to work with the state to bring the of office of the new elected superintendent of streets.

"That the mayor of the city of Granite City with the approval of the City Council shall appoint the superintendent of streets on entrances to both Eagle Park Acres and the Cloverleaf Addition into one intersection with Route 203 and then to seek lights there.

New Board Member Andy Besserman said he felt reducing the speed limit in that area would increase the safety of those entering Eagle Park or Cloverleaf.

The new township supervisor, Harold Davis, said these suggestions and others will be taken into consideration in the next few weeks as a priority list for the highway department is being prepared.

In other action the board voted to purchase a portable sprayer unit which can be strapped on a man's back and used to spray for mosquitoes in holding ponds which can not be reached by the township's mosquito spraying truck.

The unit, purchased without bidding, will cost $275.

Annual dues to the Southwestern Illinois Metropolitan Area and Regional Planning Commission (SWIMARPC) of $706 were approved for payment.

Bills approved for payment total $37,520 in the town fund, $40,923 in the revenue sharing fund, $2,176 from the general assistance fund and $2,373 from the road and bridge fund.

DOG OWNER SOUGHT

The Granite City humane department (872-8884) is looking for a young couple which adopted two dogs Monday. The previous owner of a German shepherd, has American Kennel Club (AKC) papers and a large doghouse to give them.

Ronald Coleman, Curtis Blevins and Steve Basarich

Alderman Everett Morien of the First Ward was absent.

Following the vote, Portell asked Mayor Paul Schuler if he could comment on the matter. Schuler replied that he could.

Portell told the council: "I would like to be given a reason for this action. I have worked with the council and the street department has cooperated in every way to accomplish a good street program. I am at a loss to understand this and I think I deserve some explanation."

None of the council members responded. Mayor Schuler asked if there was any further discussion and moved to the next order of business.

Of those voting for the amendment, five were attending their last council session Tuesday night. Four of them, Dallas of the First Ward, Greenwald of the Second Ward, Basarich of the Fifth Ward and Blevins, serving in an unexpired term in the Fifth Ward, were defeated in bids for election in the April 5 city election.

A fifth alderman, Coleman, also will not return at the next council meeting. Coleman did not seek re-election as alderman in the Seventh Ward so that he could bid for election as city treasurer. He was defeated.

Without their votes, the ordinance establishing the appointive post might not have carried.

On the other hand, it is not expected that the five incoming aldermen who will be seated in next Tuesday's council meeting would provide sufficient strength to rescind the ordinance.

Scheduled to be seated May 3 are Charlie Douglas in the First Ward, Fred Schuman Jr. in the Second Ward, Lloyd H. Bailey in the Fifth Ward and Mrs. Margaret Nomm to fill a two-year unexpired term in the Fifth Ward. Succeeding Coleman in the Seventh Ward will be Paul Ray Bowler.

Housewife is NOW national president

Eleanor Curti Smeal of Pittsburgh, Pa., a housewife who has never held a paying job, was elected president of the National Organization for Women (NOW) this week at the group's national conference in Detroit, Mich.

Among the delegates attending the conference were Liz Neeley of Madison and Norma Shelley Fernandez of San Francisco, Calif., a school teacher, to attain the office. The retiring president is Karen DeCrow.

The three-day national meeting was highlighted with a celebration of NOW's 10th anniversary; a rally in support of the Equal Rights Amendment; workshops and entertainment.

The concluding event was a performance by Lily Tomlin, comedienne, actress and feminist. She is a native of Detroit.

Miss Tomlin, who is appearing in a one-woman show on Broadway, took time off from her New York production to appear at the conference.

Speakers at the ERA rally were U.S. Representative Barbara Mikulski, feminist Gloria Steinem and former U.S. Rep. Martha Griffiths, among others.

Workshops focused on many topics of interest to all women, such as "Battered Women," "Women and Poverty" and "Child Care."

In her acceptance speech, Miss Smeal stressed the need for passage of the stalled Equal Rights Amendment and called for financial security for homemakers.

Better Hearing Month

The month of May has been proclaimed as Better Hearing Month by the mayors of the Quad-City area, in keeping with a nationwide observance of the event to encourage medical treatment of hearing problems and to practice "hearing conservation."

Mayors Paul Schuler of Granite City, Mike Sasyk of Madison, William Ebersold of Venice and Floyd David Moss of Pontoon Beach jointly signed a proclamation proposed by A. W. Davis, owner of the Tri-City Hearing Aid Service. Davis is spearheading promotion of hearing conservation methods throughout the area during Better Hearing Month.

The mayors called attention to data indicating that 7,000 persons in the Quad-Cities have hearing problems. They urged that all persons working in noisy environments use hearing protection devices to conserve their hearing.

The proclamation recognized efforts of the Better Hearing

Institute and the Illinois Hearing Aid Specialist Association to inform and educate the public about hearing losses that can be corrected by medical treatment.

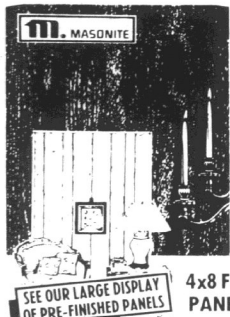

Primary efforts during Better Hearing Month will be placed under federal regulation requiring hearing aid specialists and audiologists to require medical clearance from purchasers of hearing aids. He said the law provides, however, for persons to waive medical examinations for various reasons, a practice that will put the seller in violation of the federal law.

Davis noted that the Tri-City Hearing Aid Service, 1142 Rhodes St., Madison, is a member of the Illinois Hearing Aid Specialist Association which sponsors a hearing aid bank. Any parent in the area who has a child that needs a hearing aid, and cannot afford one, may contact Davis at 876-1053 or at 877-5323, he said.

22-school GC track classic here Saturday

A second multi-school track and field meet will be staged here this week, as 22 high schools from Missouri and Illinois will gather in the Granite City Stadium at 10 a.m. Saturday for the fifth running of the annual Granite City Classic. The stadium also was the site Tuesday of the annual Madison County meet.

The meet Saturday will be conducted similarly to the county meet with schools divided into two divisions — Red (more than 750 enrollment) and Green (smaller schools). Heading a list of 16 large schools will be Lindbergh High of Missouri, winner in each of the past three years. GCHS South captured the initial meet in 1973 and was fourth last year. Vying for top honors along with the defending champion and host South High will be the Steeles of GCHS North, Centralia, Mount Vernon, Edwardsville, Cahokia, Belleville East, Collinsville, Belleville West and the Missouri schools of Hazelwood East, Fox High, Northwest High, McCluer North, Riverview Gardens and Ritenour. Coach Harry Lang's Steeles placed sixth last year. Coach Don Miller's Warriors hold four meet records — 100-yard dash (10 seconds set in 1973), 330-yard low hurdles (39.3 in 1975), shot put (55-7/8 in 1973) and pole vault (14-1 in 1975). Lindbergh High has set records in three events.

Three-time Green champion, Lebanon will compete with five other schools, Wood River, Mascoutah, Madison High, and Hancock and Herculaneum, both of Missouri.

The Greyhounds won in 1973, 1974 and 1976. Vianney of Missouri claimed the title in 1975 but will not compete this year.

Coach Charles Steptoe's Lebanon Trojans placed third in 1975 and fourth last year. Lebanon holds three of the small school division records.

Net Steelers beat Eagles

Coach John VanBuskirk's GCHS North tennis team traveled to Bethalto, defeating the host Eagles 6-3 Monday.

Larry Miller lost 2-6, 1-6, Rodney Wortham won 6-2, 6-2, Mike Sherman won 6-3, 6-3, Dean Rochester lost 7-5, 4-6, 4-6, Mike Miller won 3-6, 6-3, 6-2 and Bob Conreux won 6-3, 6-3.

Wortham-Sherman won 6-1, 6-3, Mark Maynard-Dave Abbott won 7-5, 6-7, 7-5 and Kevin Marcus-Conreux lost 3-6, 3-6.

GCHS North's freshman tennis team played host Tuesday to GCHS South, bowing 4-0.

South's Terry Malench won 6-1, 6-2 over Jim Sparks and Bob Flier won 6-2, 6-3 over Steeler Dave Rogenski. South's Mark Gornow-John Manogagan won 6-2, 6-3 over Rob Pyalka-Richard Kindel and Warriors Steve Kenyon-Mike Wilson won 10-8 over Brian McCullough and Tom Byer.

South's 20th win — 7-3 over tigers

"I know it has been at least four years since we won 20," commented Warrior coach Conrad Champion when his GCHS South nine won 7-3 at home Tuesday over Edwardsville.

While the Warriors were upping their 1977 record to 20-5, hurler Paul Evans was improving his to eight wins against one loss. Evans scattered 10 Tiger hits while South collected eight.

Hitting safely twice were Tom Hennrich and Keith Champion. Joe Parente, Evans, Mike Clark and Larry Heagerty each had one hit.

Edwardsville trailed 6-1 after three innings. Hennrich doubled and Champion singled him in the first inning and the Warriors added five in the second.

Clark singled Heagerty doubled, Hennrich reached base on an error. Randy Smith walked, Champion singled and Evans hit a three-run double. The Tigers tallied twice in the sixth and in the same frame John Lakin reached on an error. Heagerty replaced him on a fielder's choice and Parente blasted a run-scoring double to left field.

FOUR FROM GC WIN FREESTYLE MATCHES

Granite City matmen fared well at a Belleville East freestyle tournament this week, sponsored by the Gateway Wrestling Club, capturing four bouts and placing second in three others.

Placing from GCHS South were: 115 pounds — Rocky Lupardus 1st; 122 — Dean Perkins 1st, Sam Perkins 2nd; 132 — Don King 2nd; and heavyweight — Kevin Wilson 2nd. GCHS North matmen were: 166 — Robert Kirgan 1st; and heavyweight — Mark Widel 1st.

Macios sure of re-election

Carl Macios, re-elected as assessor of Nameoki Township April 5, disagreed Monday night with a statement made by the defeated township supervisor Louis Whitsell, that a weekend review showed Loren Madison receiving more votes than Macios.

Macios said he sat through the recount and saw nothing which would offset his 41-vote margin. Madison has not yet said whether he intends to challenge the election outcome.

Mrs. Freida Bollew believes she gained a substantial number of votes in the recount. She defeated the incumbent tax collector, Richard Peck, for that office by a 17-vote margin, according to the tabulations on election night.

Busy action at speedway

Tri-City Speedway, 5100 Nameoki Road, will enter its third auto racing date Saturday at 7:30 p.m. with local favorites Russ and Mike Wallace, Fred Spaling and C. C. Corbin among more than 50 late model stock car drivers expected to compete.

Appeals Board ok's requests

The Madison County Zoning Board of Appeals is recommending that two zoning requests in Quad-City area townships be approved by the Madison County Board.

Recommended for approval is the request of Curtis and Margaret Penny, 4242 Division St., for a special use permit to operate a private kennel for the family's 10 dogs and any puppies they may have. It is recommended that the permit be granted with the stipulation that there be no more than 10 dogs more than six-months old on the property at any one time.

The zoning board also is recommending that the county board permit a special use permit to Margaret Bauch, Virginia Segar, Mary Segar Evans and Roger Kieffer to place a double-wide mobile home on Chouteau Island, just north of the Interstate 270 bridges.

It is recommended the permit be granted for up to five years and for the sole use and occupancy of the Kieffer family. The property is in an agricultural district of Chouteau Township.

Considered among the finest show-dance-musical groups on the current scene, Breakaway offers entertainment which is unusually varied, including character impersonations, musical comedy and vocal and instrumental features.

Breakaway opened a two-week run Tuesday night at O. K. Corral Lounge, 3304 Nameoki Road, playing every night through May 8, with exception of Monday, May 2.

In conjunction with their opening here, the group released a new recording, "Everybody Loves the Singer," written by David Taylor, guitarist, vocalist and trumpeter and keyboard player.

On the disc's flip side is "There's a New Group in Town," written by Kathy Newby, a tiny package of dynamic talent who sings, plays guitar and keyboard, and successfully entices the audience into the act on occasions.

Nevada's Junior Miss of 1972, Kathy is a former member of the Las Vegas Ambassadors sing-out group and has appeared in special benefit performances with Don Ho in Hawaii, the King Family, Osmond Brothers, and comedians Pat Cooper and Jimmy Durante, among others. Taylor has appeared at The Landmark in Las Vegas, Lake Tahoe's Harvey's, Playboy Clubs, Sheraton Inns and at the Thunderbird and Fox Fire Inns in Florida.

Dale E. Sweetland, with a 14-year background as lead singer and in percussion work, is a English literature graduate of Oregon State University and has performed with Doc Severenson, Terry Richards from Chase, Madrid and the Counts, Energy and Genesis, at Union Plaza and The Landmark in Vegas, among numerous other clubs in California, Texas, Louisiana, New Mexico, Kentucky and in large East Coast cities and Florida.

The fourth member of Breakaway is Bill Montgomery, who studied with concert master Andre Grand of the Oakland Symphony and plays bass, fretless bass, trumpet and trombone.

Bill has appeared with Ocean, Wish, Faith, Genesis, Energy, Van Morrison and Red Prysock, among others, in widely-known clubs in New Orleans, Vegas, Florida, Pennsylvania, Denver, Portland, St. Louis, Minneapolis and other locales.

Breakaway received "stand-up" accolades two weeks ago when the group appeared at the Lodge of the Four Seasons at the Lake of the Ozarks.

Their dance music ranges from "Do the Fiddle" to "That Funky Music," "The Bus Stop," "Feelings," "Misty" to "Impanema."

They also play request material, such as polkas and standards.

Breakaway's new recording is available in the Co-Op Records in Granite City. Swing City Music in Collinsville or from the group itself at O. K. Corral.

LOCK PREVENTS ENTRY

A would-be burglar worked hard to attempt to gain entry to the home of Marion Wilson, 136 Twenty-seventh St., between Friday and Monday, but a dead-bolt lock, which requires a key to unlock from either side, prevented entry being gained. The bottom panel of a door to the basement was removed and an ax was used to chip a hole in the door between the basement and the kitchen. The dead-bolt lock prevented the kitchen door from being unlocked by reaching through it. Nothing was believed stolen.

Whittaker will be working with art students in the sculpture studio of the Wagner Art Complex at SIUE from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. on May 2 and 3. The public is invited to watch him create his blacksmith art.

Blacksmith workshop

Venice Arbor Day program

Venice Park District will observe Arbor Day with a tree planting ceremony and entertainment at 3:30 p.m. Friday in front of the Venice Recreation Center on Broadway.

The event is being held in keeping with the Illinois Arbor Day proclamation issued by Governor James R. Thompson, who designated April 29 as the observance.

Participating in the 3:30 p.m. ceremony in Venice will be Boy Scout Troop 1, Cub Pack 1, Brownie Troop 476 and Brownie Junior Troop 456, all of Venice. Entertainment will be provided by the Steperettes, a precision drum and pom pom ensemble from St. Louis, according to Pete Ponce, Venice Park Board president, and Mrs. Valeta Bauder, a board member.

This spring, a maple tree will be the focal point of the planting, replacing a tree that recently died, Mrs. Bauder said.

All citizens and organizations are invited to attend the ceremony and view the Steperettes' performance, Ponce announced.

Venice Park District is joining officials of parks, forest preserves and conservation districts throughout the state who are cooperating with local school administrators and park districts to develop and further education programs to insure the children of Illinois are made aware of Arbor Day and its significance, Ponce said.

Tim G. Soldwedel, president of the Illinois Association of Park Districts, and Joe D. Northbrook, president of the Illinois Park and Recreation Association, announced special programs around the state to observe the 105th anniversary of Arbor Day.

Traditionally a time for beautifying communities with the planting of trees, shrubs and flowers, Soldwedel and Doud are urging all park, forest preserve and conservation districts to develop a local program of educating the youth on Arbor Day and also the planting of trees in various points within the community.

Soldwedel said the program will be expanded in future years to encourage more participation and the restoration of trees that have been removed because of age, commercial development and disease.

Arbor Day first was inaugurated in Nebraska in 1872 by the State Board of Agriculture and expanded largely because of the need to plant trees, in states in the Mississippi Valley.

Moose installs new officers

Newly-elected officers of Moose Lodge 272 of Granite City were installed during ceremonies last week at the Moose Lodge Hall, attended by more than 200 members and guests.

Officers installed included Boyd Presley, governor; John Parker, junior governor; Arthur Chastain, prelate; Walter Anders, treasurer; and Earl Mead, trustee.

Other officers who had retained their offices and who also were installed for new terms were Virgil Singler, secretary, and Terry Singler and Charles Westbrook, trustees. Appointed officers are John Hester, inner guard; Bobbie Copeland, outer guard and Charlie Schaffer, sergeant.

Elected officials and other civic leaders will attend Friday's ceremony in Venice.

Fred Miller, past governor, assumed the office of junior past governor.

Women of the Moose served dinner to the more than 200 guests who included Charles Hitchcock, commander, and Guy Cooper, past commander of American Legion Post 113. Installation ceremonies and the dinner were followed by a dance to the music of Chuck Ribbons and his Country Playboys.

DANCE SATURDAY

The Sacred Heart Polish National Catholic Church of Madison is sponsoring a dance on Saturday at the Croatian Home, 10th and Madison Avenue, Madison. Music will be furnished by the Terry Dutko Orchestra from 9 p.m. until 1 a.m. Refreshments will be available. The public is invited.

SCIENCE PROJECT. The Earth Science 2 Class at Granite City High School South launch pilot balloons as part of an experiment to determine the cloud ceiling last week. Two of the seven balloons were discovered, one in rural Edwardsville and the other in Bethalto. From left are Tom Harrison, Mitch Martin, center, launching a balloon, and Diana Conley.

Active spring for Post Six

Among many demonstrations at the Scout-O-Rama on Saturday, May 21, in the Wilson Park Ice Rink, will be "Indian Dancing" done by members of Explorer Post Six sponsored by the Concordia Lutheran Church.

The post has had an Indian lore special interest for over 20 years.

Other activities of the post during the spring include a canoe trip at Eleven Point, Mo., on Friday, Saturday and Sunday, May 6, 7 and 8.

On Wednesday, May 11, the Explorers will attend a Cardinal baseball game at Busch Stadium and on Thursday, June 2, they are going to Six Flags.

Scott wants further action on car engines

Illinois Attorney General William J. Scott on Tuesday claimed a partial victory for consumers who purchased 1977 Oldsmobiles containing substitute Chevrolet engines.

General Motors agreed to allow dissatisfied consumers to return their autos and obtain credit of their purchase price toward a new 1977 Oldsmobile. An estimated 80,000 to 100,000 purchasers nationwide would be affected by this offer.

Scott said it is one part of the relief he is seeking in a federal class-action lawsuit filed in U.S. District Court for Northern Illinois on March 18.

He labeled the offer a "step in the right direction," but said purchasers would have to pay an additional amount of eight cents for each mile they drove the car in order to obtain the new auto. Scott will continue to seek a court order requiring the firm to make an adjustment without cost to the purchaser. The attorney general said he also will continue to seek penalties from GM for allegedly violating the Illinois Consumer Fraud and Deceptive Practices Act in a state case pending in the Cook County Circuit Court. Scott said that, after filing his initial suit, he alerted all other state attorneys general of the engine substitution and encouraged them to take similar action on behalf of consumers in their states.

Charge 2 with possession of syringes

Two young men were arrested and charged with unlawful possession of a hypodermic syringe after police alleged finding two syringes and needles in their auto on the parking lot of the Kroger Food Store in Nameoki Village Shopping Center at 3:30 a.m. Tuesday.

A third syringe was found in the clothing of one, officers alleged.

Robert Gilbert, 23, of 2225 Grand Ave., a passenger in the car, also was charged with theft when police alleged a wrist-watch he was wearing had been taken during a burglary April 16. A syringe and needle were found in his trousers, it was alleged.

The driver, Ronald M. Thomas, 24, of 3225 Carlson Ave., was charged with unlawful possession of a hypodermic syringe after syringes and needles allegedly were found under the driver's seat and in the glove compartment. Thomas was released on $100 bond.

It was alleged the $60 watch Gilbert wore was taken from the home of Mike Reagan, 2535 Edison Ave., along with a gun and $110 cash. Vice-grip pilfers were used to twist a door knob and gain entry.

Alton area track competition winner

The Alton Redbirds continued their winning ways in Red Division (more than 750 enrollment) competition of the Madison County track meet, earning 103 points here Tuesday to successfully defend last year's title.

Wood River claimed first place in the Green Division (small school) portion of Tuesday's meet in the Granite City Stadium with 59 points. Alton has won its division competition every year since 1946 except in 1973, when the Warriors of GCHS South captured first place.

Finishing in order behind Alton were Edwardsville with 72 points, South 45, GCHS North 29 and Collinsville 23.

In the Green Division, Bethalto finished two points behind Wood River with 57. Triad (St. Jacob-Troy-Marion) was third with 47, Madison fourth with 41, Highland (1976 winner) fifth with 32, St. Paul of Highland sixth with 22 and Roxana (1975 winner) seventh with 14 points.

Alton snapped a former meet record while winning six events. A 6-8½ height reached in the high jump by Alton bettered a previous mark of 6-5 set by Alton's Willie Huff in 1973. No other previous records were broken in either division. Steeler Mike Baker and Alton's Randy Adler provided fans with additional excitement during the two-mile run in the Red Division finals.

Required to complete eight laps around the asphalt oval track, Baker and Adler matched each other stride for stride while running side-by-side five complete laps before Baker slowly began to pull away from his former cross-country rival.

The North High junior distance runner completed the run three seconds ahead of Adler, Baker being clocked in 9:35.4 and the Alton athlete in 9:38.3. Capturing first place also for North was the two-mile relay team of Aaron Hickman, Glen Edwards, David Ebrecht and Don Lucy in 8:29.3.

Flyers pound MHS

A grand-slam homer by Flyer Henry Green topped a six-run first-inning for East St. Louis at Madison, with the visitors winning 17-10 Tuesday.

East St. Louis scored twice each in the third, fourth and fifth innings, adding four in the sixth and one in the final frame.

Coach William Campbell's Trojan nine got four runs in each of the third and fifth innings and two more in the sixth but MHS was out of 14-8.

John Falchett and Brian Eaves singled in the third.

Falchett later being picked off, and Keith Layton walked. Pete Pecurka tripled them home and Joe Piechocinski singled and scored on a wild pitch. Layton walked in the fifth, Prince Giles tripled and Pecurka walked. A bad throw on a steal allowed a run. Tom Jones and Ray Peoples reached base on errors.

In the sixth, Giles singled, Pecurka got on base via an error and Piechocinski and Peoples sandwiched singles around Jones' walk.

Lloyd Williams pitched and was relieved in the second by Jones.

Warrior wins in pole vault

Warrior Steve Adams vaulted 11 feet, one inch to be the only GCHS South athlete to win an event yesterday during a 13-school freshman track and field meet hosted by Lindbergh High of Missouri.

The host team won with 52 points. Northwest High had 38, St. Mary's 29, Windsor and St. Louis University High 28 each, Hazelwood Central and Mehlville 23½ each, Normandy and Oakville 18 each, Vianney 14, GCHS South 12, DeSmet 10½ and Prep North 10.

M

Johnsongrass is illegal in state

By RON CORNWELL
Madison County Agricultural Advisor
Dave McClure, University of Illinois weed specialist, suggested at a Johnsongrass control meeting in Madison County that spring is the time for farmers to make plans to control Johnsongrass.

It is a perennial grass plant that grows from three to 10 feet tall.
In the fall, the plant can usually be identified by its large, purplish seed head. In the spring, you will find young grass plants coming up from the old rhizomes or seeds.

In 1969, Johnsongrass was listed as a noxious weed in Illinois. This means it is illegal to have the weed growing on your property.

In fields with severe infestations of Johnsongrass, both corn and soybean fields can suffer yield reductions of 50 per cent or more in some years.
Herbicides are the only successful way to control Johnsongrass. McClure says it should be sprayed when it is 12 to 14 inches high and actively growing.

I would recommend using Dalapon or Roundup in the spring to treat emerged Johnsongrass before planting corn or soybeans.
If you use Dalapon, plow about one week after application and then delay planting about two more weeks.

With Roundup, you don't have the waiting period.
Be sure to follow label recommendations when using either chemical. Either is effective on the old rhizomes.
Another plan would be to use a three-year soybean program.
Treflan is used at twice the normal rate each year for two years and then at the normal rate the third year before resuming a regular crop rotation. Research suggests you can get about 90 per cent of rhizomes by the second year.

Eradicate can be used in corn to give control of seedlings and partial control of the rhizomes.
High rates of Eradicate could cause corn injury problems.

One of the better programs to use is with wheat. Once the wheat is removed, mow the Johnsongrass.
Once the grass regrows to a 12-inch height, treat with Roundup.
Since the plants are actively growing, Roundup will trans-locate to the root system.
Madison County farmers can't afford to have John-songrass in their corn and soybean fields.
If you can raise 100 bushels of corn and Johnsongrass reduces the yield by 25 per cent, you have lost 25 bushels of potential corn. At $2.50 per bushel for corn, Johnsongrass would cost you $62.50 per acre.

The highest-producing herds in the Madison County Dairy Herd Improvement Association in March were owned by Marvin Stille Granada, Harold and Carl Baumann, Becker Farms, Inc., Waldo Keilbach, George Daiber, Vernon Warner, Eugene McFerrin, Henry Zoeller, Down-A-Lane Farm and Heepke Farms, Inc.
The herd of Marvin Stille was high for the month with 1.86 pounds butterfat per cow per day.
The Stille herd of 47 cows averaged 49.2 pounds milk per cow per day with an average butterfat test of 3.78.

A quick check of some alfalfa fields in the county this past week shows alfalfa weevil larvae feeding damage.
At the present time, the larvae are small and damage is light. Keep a close watch on alfalfa fields because weevils can develop very rapidly.
Most alfalfa is over a foot high at the present time. We hope you will be able to harvest the first cutting before a spray is needed to control the weevil.
Newly-hatched larvae are about 1-3/8 of an inch long and have a yellowish body and a shiny black head.
They can be found in the tips of new terminal leaves before they unfold. Half-grown larvae are green and have a white stripe down the back.
When 25 per cent of the tips are being skeletonized and there are three or more larvae per stem, treatment is recommended. However, do not treat unless temperatures are in the mid 50s or higher.

For additional information on chemicals to use for alfalfa weevil control, contact the county extension office.

DR. ROBERT HILTBRAIN

Aquatic weed control talk
A program on aquatic weed control in lakes and ponds will be held Tuesday, May 3, at 7:30 p.m. in the Madison County Farm Bureau Auditorium, 900
Hillsboro, Edwardsville.
Dr. Robert Hiltbrin, aquatic weed biologist, will be the speaker. He has conducted aquatic plant and algae control research for the Natural History Survey for several years.
Dr. Hiltbrin will discuss latest developments in the control of aquatic weeds. He will cover weed identification and the control measures to use.
Coal is to aid listeners in working out a weed control program for their pond of lake.

Charged with parole violation

Fifth trustee named to sanitary board

Robert Eastern Sr. of East St. Louis has been appointed as the fifth member of the Metro-East Sanitary District which was established in December to replace the former East Side Levee and Sanitary District.

Eastern, who was appointed Monday night by the St. Clair County Board, settling a long-standing political dispute over the naming of St. Clair County members to the five-man board of trustees.

His appointment came after Board Chairman Victor Canty switched to Eastern from Roosevelt Malone of East St. Louis after Malone had been refused board confirmation on four previous occasions.

The appointment now completes the makeup of the sanitary district board. The board had been operating with three trustees including Russell Robinson, Granite City, as chairman; Leonard Hylla of Madison and John Erhardt of Washington Park.

Robinson and Hylla were appointed by Nelson Hagnauer, chairman of the Madison County Board, and Erhardt had been approved as a St. Clair County member.

The political feud between Canty and Francis Touchette, Democratic leader of Centerville Township, delayed the appointment of the two remaining St. Clair County trustees until two weeks ago when the two officials agreed on the appointment of Omar Brumit of Cahokia. Eastern's appointment Monday night filled the board's membership.

Eastern's term will expire Dec. 5 this year.

The first meeting of the full board was held in the Granite City district offices at 4:30 p.m. yesterday, to act on a new working agreement for pumping station operators.

The board is to meet again today at 4:30 p.m., also in the Granite City offices, to discuss a working agreement for operators at the district's Lansdowne sewage treatment plant at National City.

renewal pruning will promote new growth, reduce size and encourage flowering.

Old plants can be renewed on a three-year program. Each year, remove one-third of the old canes at the ground.

During the summer, new shoots will develop from the stumps to restore the original shape.

By the third year, you will have removed all of the old stems while new shoots have produced a smaller, more attractive plant.

Popular landscape shrubs that can be easily revitalized include barberry, bush, bush, honeysuckle, lilacs, mockorange, yellow and red twig dogwoods, flowering quince and weigela.

The young canes are always the most floriferous.

After this three-year project, remove one or two of the largest canes each year. The best time to prune is immediately after flowering.

Carpenter ants are large black ants that are seen crawling around basements, garages, fireplace wood and old stumps.

They are the largest ants found in Illinois, varying from 1/4 to 1/2 inch in length.

They are black and may be winged, or wingless. Carpenter ants do not eat wood, but tunnel into wood to make their nests. The galleries are clean and cut across the wood. They throw out sawdust when building their galleries.

These ants forage in homes, feeding on spilled foodstuffs and dead insects.

In general, carpenter ants are more of a nuisance and do not pose a great threat to homes. To remove ants from an unwanted area, try to locate their nest and pathways. Use diazinon or baygon oil-base spray in pressurized spray cans. Apply to baseboards, cracks and door thresholds.

When ants are coming in from outside, apply a 5 per cent diazinon water base spray completely around the outside foundation (wall) of your home.

Spray the area from the soil to the sill of your house to the point of runoff. Repeat this treatment every six to eight weeks during the summer.

National Steel earnings lower

National Steel Corporation earned $5,018,329 or 26 cents per share in the first quarter of 1977, Chairman George A. Stinson reported to stockholders Wednesday at the company's annual meeting.

This compares with 1976 first-quarter earnings of $13,553,359, or 72 cents per share.

"The disruptive and costly effects of severe weather and fuel shortages in January and February greatly reduced our earnings in the first quarter,"

Chairman Stinson said in Pittsburgh.

"Drastic curtailments of natural gas to our plants forced the shutdown of production units and the purchase of expensive alternate fuels, both of which added substantially to our costs."

"With these problems now behind us, we believe the balance of 1977 will be a good year for National Steel."

Production and shipments for the first quarter of 1977 declined from the comparable period a year ago.

Primary steel production totaled 2,317,600 tons versus 2,536,500 tons. Shipments for the current quarter totaled 1,943,900 tons versus 2,008,900 tons a year ago.

Sales and operating revenue for the first quarter, 1977, totaled $739,346,172, compared with $686,822,880 for the first quarter, 1976.

"Shipments and profitability increased in March as we began to emerge from the worst winter of this century. Demand for our flat-rolled products from consumer-oriented markets remains strong and we expect second-quarter shipments to be ahead of those in the first quarter," Stinson said.

"At the same time," the chairman added, "we must deal with mounting inflationary costs at all levels."

"The recently negotiated labor settlement will boost hourly labor costs starting May 1 of this year."

"In addition, the costs of energy and raw materials continue to rise."

"These combined cost increases cannot be fully recovered by current prices or increases in productivity."

Foreign steel imports, which accounted for 14 per cent of domestic steel consumption in 1976, are a matter of growing concern, stockholders were told. At the present time, imports are running well ahead of the comparable period a year ago.

"Government-owned or subsidized foreign producers are selling steel in the United States at substantial discounts while, at the same time, reporting financial losses," Stinson said.

"Government policymakers must realize that this is a growing economic threat to the employees and the stockholders of the American steel industry."

Bond increased

The bond for Shirley J. Barber, 42, of 3208 Nameoki Road, was increased from a total of $4,500 to a total of $9,000 by Associate Judge George Moran Jr. in court in Granite City Monday and she was released on her own recognizance.

She faces court action on two counts of deceptive practices and a misdemeanor charge of theft after she and a Granite City couple allegedly used a stolen credit card to make a $53 purchase at the Leader Store, 3705 Nameoki Road, and a $64 purchase at Glik's Store in Bellemore Village Shopping Center, both on Feb. 2.

They also allegedly attempted to use a stolen credit card the same day at P.N. Hirsch Co., Gaslight Plaza Shopping Center.

After several delays in bringing the case to a hearing, it was alleged Shirley Barber failed to appear when requested, causing the judge to increase her bond.

She had been released on her own recognizance after the initial arrest.

Development plan under review by HUD

The Madison County Community Development 1977-78 fiscal year grant application has been received by the Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) office in Chicago for review. Comments about the application may be addressed to the Chicago HUD office within the next 30 days. Comments should include whether the program complies with applicable laws, proposes eligible projects, and meets the needs and objectives of the program. A copy of the county's program is available for public inspection at the Madison County Community Development office in the county courthouse at Edwardsville.

Youth charged with burglary

A burglary charged was filed Monday against Carl Barton Graham, 17, of 2162 Edison Ave., alleging that he broke into Barney's Bear Service shop, 2311 Madison Ave., at 1 p.m. Sunday.

An alarm took police to the shop and they alleged discovering a bicycle under a broken window at the rear of the establishment. Someone opened a side window and escaped while police were at the rear of the building.

A 13-year-old found walking nearby was questioned and the resulting investigation led to the arrests of the 13-year-old and Graham. Petitions are to be filed in juvenile court against the younger boy. Graham's bond was set at $3,500 by Associate Judge George Moran Jr. at 3:45 p.m. Monday and he was returned to jail.

Percy says 'lifetime pensions' go to aliens

Senator Charles H. Percy (R-Ill.) has called on three federal agencies to crack down on "abuses of federal law" that enable aliens to qualify for lifetime government pensions within 30 days of their arrival in the United States. In some cases, aliens obtain free medical care, also, he asserted.

Federal funds are available to aliens through the Supplemental Security Income (SSI) program, Sen. Percy related. The program provides federal income maintenance payments for poor persons who are aged, blind, or disabled. In fiscal 1977 (October 1976-September 1977), an estimated $6.4 billion in SSI payments will be distributed — $5.2 billion in federal funds and $1.2 billion in state funds.

As of December 1976, 4.2 million persons were receiving monthly SSI payments of up to $16 for individuals and $22 for couples. About four per cent of SSI applicants are aliens, according to a nationwide sampling two years ago.

In letters released this week to the Social Security Administration (in the Department of Health, Education and Welfare), the Immigration and Naturalization Service (in the Department of Justice) and the General Accounting Office, Sen. Percy called for an investigation of fraudulent siphoning off of federal funds by aliens.

He expressed concern over alleged instances of deceit, misrepresentation, fraud and other abuses by both aliens and their sponsors. Aliens are required by law to be financially stable before they are granted entry to the United States.

"Some aliens enter this country with the explicit purpose in mind of collecting benefits," Percy said. "Others collect SSI benefits after being in the U.S. just 30 days, without ever having contributed significantly to the American economy."

"Still others, incredibly, continue receiving SSI payments even after leaving the United States." An SSI claims representative in an office in an ethnically mixed community in Chicago said aliens sometimes apply for SSI benefits the day after their arrival in the U.S.

"We tell them they have to wait 30 days and to bring in their airplane tickets to prove their date of entry," the representative said. "Meanwhile, we refer them to the Illinois Department of Public Aid for food stamps and medical care."

Immigrants, according to federal law, must not become "public charges." However, federal courts and the Board of Immigration Appeals have ruled that this provision of the law is virtually unenforceable.

Percy, ranking minority member of the Senate Governmental Affairs Committee, said that if "agencies directly responsible will not curtail the program by tightening eligibility and payment regulations, then it is up to Congress to take affirmative legislative action."

Percy referred to a previous government study and journalistic accounts which have uncovered allegations of abuses in the SSI program and its predecessor programs.

One man confided that his sister signed an affidavit of support for their mother, he said, because it is a common practice used to get relatives into the country and then put them on public assistance. The mother applied for assistance nine days after admission into the U.S. and received it.

A woman flew into the U.S. to apply for SSI, left a phone address and then arranged for a friend to send the checks to her. After endorsing the checks, she returned them to the United States, where the accomplice cashed the checks and mailed her a portion.

New York City psychiatrist signed an affidavit promising to support her elderly mother if admitted into the U.S. Six months after obtaining permanent resident status, the mother applied for $154 a month in assistance from the New York City Department of Social Services because she said her daughter could no longer support her.

A woman applied for and received $122 in monthly benefits less than two weeks after her arrival in the U.S., including $80 to pay her son for room and board. Only a month before, the son had signed an affidavit promising to financially support his mother.

Particularly hard-hit by these abuses are seven states where 72 per cent (in 1974) of the nation's 4.1 million aliens live, Sen. Percy said.

They are: California, 25 per cent; New York, 17 per cent; Texas and Florida, each seven per cent; Illinois and New Jersey, each six per cent; and Massachusetts, four per cent.

Percy asked the three federal agencies to estimate the number of legal and illegal aliens receiving SSI, the yearly dollar amount of benefits, and the feasibility of including the incomes and assets of an immigrant's sponsor as a means of ensuring that the sponsor has the wherewithal to support the immigrant.

He also directed the agencies to furnish specific recommendations for preventing further abuses. "The abuses by some aliens — and the federal government's apparent willingness to stand idly by — reflect badly on the overwhelming majority of legal aliens who add so much to our society and seek nothing more than the opportunity to become U.S. citizens," Percy said.

"Aliens who abuse our system, and take advantage of our generosity, divert funds from citizens and citizens-to-be who have significantly contributed to our society and are genuinely in need of federal assistance."

Leg fractured in accident

Earl Walker, 42, of 919 Franklin St., Madison, suffered a broken right leg and other injuries when he was struck by an auto on Edwardsville Road near 12th Street at 11:50 a.m. Monday.

Walker, a construction worker for C.D. Peters Construction Co., has been working on curbing when the accident occurred.

Witnesses said Walker was crossing toward the northwest across Edwardsville Road, crossed three lanes and then saw the oncoming auto and hesitated. He then attempted to run across the last lane and was struck.

The auto, driven by William Snel, 528 Alton Ave., Madison, skidded its horn, skidded 60 feet and swerved left, but was unable to avoid striking Walker, witnesses said. Walker was knocked into the air and came to rest on the right side of the car.

He was taken by ambulance to St. Elizabeth Hospital where he was admitted for surgery to his broken leg. He also bruised his right hand and had stomach pain.

FORMER RESIDENT UNDERGOES SURGERY

Paul Cick, 23 West Madison St., Antioch, Calif., formerly of Granite City, underwent major surgery, Tuesday, in a Martinez (Calif.) hospital, according to word received here from his daughter, Mrs. Joseph Beach of Riverside, Calif.

Art, craft show on 24th Street parkway

Craftsmen and artisans, 14 years and older, will display and sell their work at an arts and crafts show, scheduled Sunday, May 15, on the 24th Street parkway between Delmar Avenue and Cleveland Boulevard.

The show will be presented in conjunction with the Downtown Granite City Neighborhood Restoration Society's annual house tour, set the same day. Mrs. Emylee Alford, craft show chairman, said any professional or amateur craftsman and artisan is invited to display their work.

The society will supply a table in the open air park or beneath a tent, but all other "set-up" materials must be supplied by the exhibitor, Mrs. Alford said. Spaces will be assigned on the basis of reservation, receipt, she added.

Purpose of the show is to acquaint people with various arts and crafts and to provide an opportunity for artisans and organizations to sell their handicrafts, the chairman stated.

All types of crafts will be acceptable, but all must be handmade.

Factory made or commercial products are not to be shown nor sold, she said, noting that craftwork made from kits is not prohibited.

Entries are due this week and must be mailed to Mrs. Alford, 2017 Missouri Ave., Granite City, Ill. 62040. Space rental is set at $10.

Spaces will be ready for set-up from 11 a.m. on May 15.

Acteen Coronation Sunday at Emmanuel Baptist

An Acteen coronation ceremony will be conducted at 6 p.m. Sunday, at Emmanuel Baptist Church, for eight members of the organization, which is a part of the Women's Missionary Union (WMU) of the church, according to Mrs. Pat Parker, director of the group. Those to receive the queen's crown are Paula Fisher, Barbara Keelin and Tammy Pounds; Robin Thurnman and Vicki Johnson will receive the queen's scepter; Darlene Arakaki and Cathy Howard are to be presented with the queen's cape as queen regent. Karen Sisk, as queen regent-in-service will receive a citation and service pin, which are the highest awards a girl earns in Acteens.

Mrs. Nina Howard will be the speaker for the evening. Mrs. Parker will present the charge and Jo Ann Stanton is to sing a solo. Mrs. Edna Stagner, director of the WMU, will also attend. It was noted.

A reception will follow the coronation in the church Fellowship Hall.

The Youth-College Career Choir of the church will compete in a state contest at 3 p.m. Friday in Champaign-Urbana. The choir has participated in district and area contests and are now performing at a state level, according to the Rev. Arthur Short, pastor.

The "New Creation" musical group, directed by the Rev. John Nading, minister of music at Third Baptist Church, will present, "The Church That God Built With Love" at 5 p.m. Sunday, May 1, at Emmanuel Baptist Church, 1800 Pontoon Road, the host pastor announces.

Register mobile homes tomorrow

All owners of mobile homes in Granite City Township have until 5 p.m. tomorrow to register mobile homes with the township assessor, Von Dee Cruse, at the township assessor's office, 1316 Niedringhaus Ave.

Persons not registering are subject to having their mobile homes assessed as though they were new units and the square footage will be estimated in determining the tax bill. Penalties also may be imposed, by law, on those failing to register their mobile homes.

Senior citizens and disabled residents are eligible for a 20 per cent discount on their mobile home taxes if they present proof they are 65 or older or show their disability claim cards when registering their mobile homes.

The owner of each mobile home must register in person and the title to each mobile home must be shown at that time.

Registration prior to May 1 is required each year in Granite City Township. Since May 1 falls on a Sunday, the county assessor has ruled that Friday is the last day to register.

The square footage is based on outside dimensions of the mobile home, not including the length of the tongue and hitch. For a model of the years 1975 through '77, the tax is 15 cents per square foot.

For the years 1972 through '74, multiply 13.5 per square foot. For 1969 through 1971 models, the tax is 12 cents per square foot.

The amount decreases to 7.5 per square foot for models 15 years old.

The tax on mobile homes is for the current year rather than for the prior year as in real estate tax. There is no provision for installment payments.

Safety, cleanup campaign

Members of the Madison Police Department made visits to all kindergartens through third grade and special classes in the Madison Schools to impress upon the children the importance of safety and keeping the schools and city clean.

The police also visited St. Mary's School.

The visit was a followup to safety films furnished to the schools by the Madison Police Department.

Each of the schools held a safety poster contest sponsored by the Madison Fire Department and the Madison Mother's Club. The Fire Department contributed money towards prizes which will be awarded by Mayor Mike Sasyk in ceremonies at the Madison High School auditorium today at 7 p.m.

The winning posters will be on display in the auditorium during the ceremonies. The children then will be allowed to take their posters home with them.

"On behalf of all the teachers, administration, parents and children in the Madison School District, we wish to thank the Madison Mother's Club, the Madison Fire Department and the Madison Police Department for their participation and cooperation during the campaign," Porter Cawley, principal at Harris School, said.

Cawley initiated the program several years ago at Harris School. It since has been adopted throughout the district, including the parochial schools.

3-D laser light, sound show here

"Soleil," a three-dimensional laser light and sound experience, will be presented in the Meridian Ballroom at SIUE Thursday, May 5 at 7, 8:30 and 10 p.m.

Sponsored by the University Center Board, "Soleil" has been performed at universities, theaters, museums and various artistic events since May 1972.

It consists of music and laser light movements created in 1972 by Bruce Rogers, who worked in Paris on the "Polytope De Cluny," a production for music, lasers and xenon flashes.

In 1974, Rogers joined Gary Levenberg and a team of individuals from Indiana University to create a new "laser music spectacle," the result of computer-programming millions of commands.

Tickets for the performance, which are $2.50 for the SIUE students and $3 for the general public, are available at the university box office.

Spring concert at North

The Granite City High School North Vocal Music Department will present its annual spring concert Monday in the cafeteria at North at 8 p.m.

The choruses, under the direction of Mrs. Gail E. Untler, will perform the following numbers:

Advanced Mixed Chorus will sing "All the Things You Are," "You'll Never Walk Alone," "Let There Be Music," and "Another Op'nin', Another Show."

The Madrigals will sing "The Entertainer," "God Made Our Hands," "Morning Has Broken," and "The Way We Were."

The Sixth Hour Mixed Chorus will present "Corner of the Sky," "Let Us Love One Another," "Hear Me, O Lord," and "Country Style."

Contando will sing "Tapestry," "All Ye That Cried Unto the Lord," "Where Is Love," and "Both Sides Now."

The Girls' Glee Club will sing "When I Fall in Love," "Alleluia," "Morning," and "I Thought that Love Had Been a Boy."

The accompanists for the evening will be Gail Kendall, Connie LaVelle, and Mary Peters.

Tickets may be purchased from all vocal students or at the door. Prices are 75 cents for adults and 50 cents for students.

GC pupils to recite 'pledge' tomorrow

As part of a nationwide program, pupils at 17 Granite City schools will recite the pledge of allegiance at 1:30 p.m. Friday.

Lake and McKinley elementary schools are among those planning special Americanism programs and flag ceremonies in conjunction with the recitation.

Mrs. Jackie Petras of Amvets Auxiliary Unit 51, Americanism chairman for the Illinois Amvets Auxiliary, said the school program here is being sponsored by Granite City Amvets Post 51.

Some schools have obtained copies of Red Skelton's rendition of the pledge of allegiance and will play it at 1:30 p.m. Friday, she said.

"All citizens are being urged to take a few moments and stop whatever they are doing to recite the "pledge to the flag," Mrs. Petras urged.

The auxiliary officer also reminded students in the Americanism poster and essay contest, sponsored by the local auxiliary, the deadline for submitting entries is Sunday, May 1.

Last minute information concerning the contest may be obtained from Mrs. Petras at 877-8315 (day) and 931-1239 (evening).

At a meeting last night at Post 51, 5100 Lakeview Drive, auxiliary members authorized donations to the Scholarship Foundation and Carillon Fund.

Mrs. Trudy McGowan, president, was in charge.

'Earth' home concept to be demonstrated

A model of a new-type home which its developers say is designed to be virtually maintenance free — with substantially reduced heating and cooling costs — is to be presented Sunday at 3 p.m. at Sunset Hills Holiday Inn.

By Gary C. Davis, president of U'Bahn Earth Homes, a division of Gateway Drywall, 406 Braden Ave.

Following display of the Crescendo model, a groundbreaking ceremony will be held at 3 p.m. at a building site on the bluffs. Persons attending the open house will be transported by bus to the groundbreaking ceremony.

Davis said the groundbreaking will climax four years of planning and engineering work to develop the new type of home. It is dug into a hillside; the living area looks out through windows to a southerly view and receives light through an atrium on top.

"By using the hillside concept, one has more privacy without losing touch with the outside world," Davis said.

The model to be displayed Sunday and built by the developer has four bedrooms, formal living room, dining room, family room, kitchen, two baths, utility room, vestibule, garage, shop area and indoor swimming pool. Davis said the pool is optional in the home plans that will be offered.

A four-bedroom home to be built by Davis, to be used as a model but also in which he and his family will live, will cost between $70,000 and $80,000.

Smaller dwellings, ranging in price from $25,000, also are on the drawing board, he said.

State legislators, community leaders, elected officials, building trade representatives and others interested in the earth home concept are planning to attend.

Venice dental office to open

Venice will have a dental office beginning Monday, Mayor William Ebersoldt announced at the Tuesday night council meeting.

"We are happy to have Dr. William H. Chen opening what will be known as the Venice Dental Group at 600 Broadway on Monday," the mayor said. "Dr. Chen will have another dental with him and I think this will add much to the services available here in Venice," Ebersoldt said.

The council approved a building permit for remodeling the office at an estimated cost of $4,000.

Cinco de Mayo Fiesta May 14

Cinco de Mayo Fiesta, a national Mexican holiday observed in the United States on May 5 as Mexican-American Day will be held May 14 at the Croatian Home, Madison.

The social event, sponsored by the Mexican Home Commission, is scheduled later this year so members of the local group may have the opportunity to attend other fiestas, including one in St. Louis on Thursday, May 5, Valencia added.

Pioneers use power, win 13-4

Pioneer William Coleman blasted a homer with the bases loaded in the opening frame of a contest here Wednesday with GCHS North, pacing Assumption 13-4.

Assumption added three runs in the third inning, four in the fifth and two in the final frame to improve its season record to 12-4. Pioneers collected 11 hits off Steeler hurlers Steve Doty and Terry Page.

North, now with an 11-12 record, collected eight hits, including three by Bruce Wright.

The Steelers scored twice in the first when Page walked and advanced on a wild pitch and outfield fly, Wright tripled and Jodi Failoni singled.

In the fourth, Bailey and Tom Greco hit safely. Page singled in a run and a wild pitch enabled another runner to score.

Many foods have trace materials of carcinogens

Decisions about chemical safety should be based on scientific knowledge, not emotional claims, Monsanto Company shareholders were told during the weekend at the company's 75th annual meeting.

John W. Hanley, chairman and president, said Monsanto supports responsible regulation, but that society must not indict all products simply because some must be restricted.

"The regulatory agencies are essential to safeguarding the consumer and maintaining the consumer's confidence," Hanley said.

"But the agencies should not be constrained by legislative mandate to the exclusion of competent, scientific judgment. Scientific evidence must be weighed against emotional testimony."

Hanley said the increasing ability of science to find and analyze minute traces of chemical substances suggests the need for regulatory criteria that fully keep pace with those scientific capabilities.

He referred as an example to the Delaney amendment of the Food, Drug and Cosmetic Act. The amendment, passed in 1958, says in effect that any food additive which is shown to be cancer-causing in animal feeding tests must be banned — regardless of the dosages of the actually ingested by humans.

"The Delaney amendment was added by Congress 19 years ago," Mr. Hanley said. "During those 19 years, trace analysis has developed to the point where it is now from 10,000 to one million times more sensitive than in 1958."

"Yet, the regulatory framework of the decision-making process is relatively unchanged and remains subject to emotion and inflammatory pressures."

He said the public is understandably confused by conflicting theories about cancer-causing agents.

"Only a very small minority of scientists state categorically that there can be no tolerable level of certain trace chemicals."

"While this may be true of a small, definable list of substances, practically no scientists in this field of study hold this theory for most chemicals."

"Almost all recognize that, as testing continues to become so much more sophisticated, trace materials never expected will be found at incredibly small concentrations in almost all so-called natural substances."

Hanley said today's testing shows that "society applies an 'informed risk' judgment every day at the dinner table."

"Many 'natural' foods contain trace levels of toxins and carcinogens."

He noted for example that green vegetables contain trace amounts of the carcinogen nickel; that 120 pounds of potatoes contains enough poison to kill a horse; and that lima beans contain hydrogen cyanide — although at a low enough level that they are safe to eat.

"My point should be obvious," Hanley said.

"As our technology has become more and more precise, we have had to set aside the idea of living with 'zero risk.' But we can now make scientific judgments that minimize risk while permitting us to use safe products that we want and need."

Hanley asserted a need for science, government and industry to help the American public understand the scientific concepts involved.

"The judgments of 'informed risk' in our society must be made without public anxiety," he said.

"If the public gains an understanding, and our reasoning is sound, then there will be broad support for logical decisions about chemical safety based on scientific knowledge."

Hanley said Monsanto would continue to face up to the task of making scientific concepts and data understandable to non-technical leaders of American society.

News notes

Gov. James R. Thompson last week announced he would support legislation intended to crack down on auto parts theft rackets. The bill would require manufacturers to permanently affix identification numbers to vehicles and their parts, and would increase the penalty for removal or alteration of those numbers to a Class 3 felony.

The Illinois Department of Conservation is urging persons who wish to stock farm ponds and other private waters to consult with private fish dealers. The department's Division of Fisheries said fish raised at the two state hatcheries will have to be used to stock lakes which can be fished by the public before any fish will be sold for use in private waters. The fish shortage is the result of severe winter weather which caused large-scale destruction of fish populations in Illinois waters. Fish dealer lists can be obtained from the Division of Fisheries, 100 E. Washington St., Springfield 62701.

"Clean Streams: You Can Do Something About It" is a Department of Conservation publication which may be helpful to groups interested in organizing stream clean-up projects. Conservation Director David Kenney said the material can be obtained by writing the Department of Conservation, 100 E. Washington, Springfield 62701.

The impact of increased use of Illinois coal is being considered by the Illinois Environmental Protection Agency. Patrick Lynch, manager of EPA's air pollution control division said, "We are committed to continual progress in achieving air quality standards, however, we maintain that this progress should be realized without placing undue restrictions on the use of Illinois coal." Copies of a coal guide are available by writing the EPA office at 2200 Churchill Road, Springfield 62706.

For those who find seemingly abandoned young animals in the woods this spring, the Illinois Department of Conservation advises, "Look, but don't touch." Many people take animals home to raise in captivity. However, the animals usually do not lose their wild instincts and become nuisances. Handling of wild animals is discouraged also because of the possibility of rabies in the animals. The nearest conservation officer is to be contacted about known abandoned young animals.

ST. LOUIS WOMAN HURT
Mary Evans, 19, of St. Louis, was admitted for observation at St. Elizabeth Hospital during the weekend and for treatment of injuries sustained in an auto accident. She suffered an abrasion to the left knee and a superficial laceration to the left elbow. X-rays were taken.

Nameoki board seated

Before one of the larger crowds to have attended, a regular Nameoki Town Board meeting in several years, the new township supervisor, Harold Davis, and the new township trustees and highway commissioner were seated Monday night.

About 75 persons filled the small meeting area, a larger group than attended the recent annual town meeting. The town meeting was held in the township garage, due to the anticipated crowd, but the group Monday night exceeded expectations and persons stood in line from the meeting room into the hall to hear the new board conduct its first meeting.

The meeting started at 7:16 p.m., 16 minutes late, as the board met in caucus to discuss an attorney, the order of business and other matters.

and Jerry Adams, trustees. Town Clerk Douglas Teator and Trustees Norman Hessler and W. Lee Adams.

The new highway commissioner, Frank Mellich, also was recognized.

Davis led the group in pledging allegiance to the flag and then altered the agenda to hire a town board attorney as the first item of business. Irving C. Slate Jr. was selected unanimously as the attorney at a salary of $300 per month.

Also approved was a stipulation that Slate, or his authorized representative, attend all meetings of the town board.

Davis' resignation as trustee of the Long Lake Fire Protection District, necessitated by his election as supervisor, was accepted unanimously by the board.

Davis had been serving as the fire district board's president. He appointed Harry Briggs, 4265 Lake Drive, Ponton Beach, as his successor on the Long Lake Fire Protection District, to fill the term through May 1, 1979. Briggs is a former supervisor of Nameoki Township.

Also appointed to that board was Art Theis, 2300 Arnold Drive, to serve a vacant position through May 1, 1980. The town board concurred unanimously in the appointments.

A resolution immediately dismissing Whitecell's secretary, Viva Elliott and Anita Hukla, was presented by Adams, second by Hessler and passed unanimously. The resolution also gave Davis the authority to hire his own office staff.

Davis suggested hiring Oliver C. Schneider & Associates, certified public accountants, to serve as the auditing firm for the township's books in the 1977-78 fiscal year and the board concurred.

It was agreed that $1,700 is to be included in the town fund budget for auditing, $1,000 is to be for the auditing firm in the road and bridge budget and $400 in the revenue sharing fund budget is to be earmarked for auditing.

Davis also designated Granite City Trust and Savings Bank as depository for the township's accounts and the clerk was requested to notify the bank and arrange for the recognition of the proper signatures on township checks and financial records.

Davis concluded the meeting thanking those present for a large turnout. "I am glad to see this much interest in township government," the new supervisor stated.

The board adjourned until its next regular meeting Monday, May 9.

Upturn in GI home loans

Unseasonably cold weather this winter failed to curb GI home loans, new figures show.

Veterans Administration loan officials reported 7,057 VA housing starts in January and 9,203 in February. The seasonally-adjusted February figures reflected an annual rate total of 144,000 units, the highest for any month since November 1958.

Also at seasonally-adjusted annual rates, there were 254,000 VA appraisal requests for proposed dwelling units in February, highest for any month since September 1971. The January total was 230,000.

The February tally, for new homes was 99,000, third highest annual rate total for any month since April 1973.

Of the 145,000 home loans VA during the first five months of the October 1976-September 1977 fiscal year, nearly 60 per cent were made to Vietnam-era veterans.

Loans guaranteed to post-Korean veterans totaled 13 per cent and activity-duty military members accounted for 11 per cent of the five-month total.

One out of every five of these loans was for a newly-built home, and the balance for existing homes.

Eight injured in three-car traffic crash

Eight persons were injured in a three-car accident at 2:59 p.m. Sunday at Highway 111 and State Aid Route 35.

Miss Toni Frances Paynick, 17, of East Alton, driver of one car, southbound on Highway 111, was stopped for a left turn light onto Route 35. Her car was struck in the right side as she made the turn. Miss Paynick was issued citations by the Madison County Sheriff's department charging failure to yield and transportation of alcohol.

Miss Paynick was treated at St. Elizabeth Hospital for bruises to the right elbow and left knee and released. A sheriff's department spokesman said the left turn light was stuck on red.

Miss Teresa Walters, 17, of Alton, a passenger in the Paynick car, was treated for a laceration to the right hand and released.

Charles Kohlhauser, 53, of Bethalto, driver of another car north bound on Highway 111, was treated for laceration under the chin, pain in the neck. He was treated and released.

Passengers in the Kohlhauser car included Mrs. Peggy Kohlhauser, 42, of East Alton, who was treated for bruise and rib area, bruised right knee and transferred to Wood River Township Hospital for observation.

Two Kohlhauser children, Melissa, 11, was treated for a bruised right knee and released, while her brother Michael, 14, was treated for bruise and contusions to both legs and released.

Larry L. Dellamano, 28, driver of the third car, and his wife, Pamela, 26, of 2561 Revere's Route, were treated and released at Oliver C. Anderson Hospital.

Buckminster Fuller can put planet Earth in perspective

By KAREN WINNER

Fifteen minutes with Buckminster Fuller.

That was all the 81-year-old could spare before delivering the seventh lecture in his 10-day road tour.

He was seated at the table, his hands clasped, expectant. "Now, there's so much to tell you," he began.

"I don't understand the human logic. The first thing anybody says to a stranger is where are you from, or where do you live? Well, the average American family moves every three years. I tell people I live in a planet called Spaceship Earth, and I've been around it 40 times now."

Fuller doesn't supply the fact that he's a world fellow in residence at the University of Washington, that he designed the geodesic dome, or the gigantic bubble-like U.S. Pavilion at Expo '87 in Montreal. It takes a fast talker to reveal that he's an engineer, a conservationist, a poet, a philosopher, and an expert in mathematics and science.

For these 15 minutes, he chooses to cover the history of the universe. And, while he proves it can be done, Fuller, above all, comes across as a man being through ignorance.

"At 32, I undertook an experiment," Fuller explains. "I decided to find out what a penniless unknown human being might be able to do effectively that great nations—too involved in their own affairs—had not been able to do... to aid the little man, to show what the little man can do if he uses his mind, not his muscle."

Peering at his watch through extra-thick glasses, he picks up such momentum that all one can do is try to keep up with what follows.

Civilizations fly through the air.

"We are on a tiny little planet. Our nervous system still sees the sun set, even though the sun doesn't set. We're just rotating out of its sight. We talk about things being 'up' and 'down' even though there are no such words. We say the wind is blowing from the northwest when it is really being sucked from the southeast."

"The depth of the ocean is really only 1-8,000th of the diameter of our earth and yet we think of it as huge."

"There's no energy problem. It's ignorance—not recognizing that the solutions have always been available until the crisis is upon us."

"We have this philosophy that there's not enough to go around, therefore we're obsessed with 'survival.' There's ample to go around, we just need to understand how to use and dispose of it properly. People don't want to listen, they just want to force blindly ahead with their drives and curiosities."

"This is a totally regenerative universe. There is energy all around us. Take windmills. One windmill would produce the needed energy per household, instead of the diminishing coal, natural gas or oil resources."

"There is the problem of converting wind from direct to alternating current. So you take the wind and put it in the main public utility lines where you can store it."

Saccharin issue not yet settled

By LESTER BELL

Press-Record

Washington, D.C. (UPI)—Momentarily eclipsed by President Carter's energy package and renewed legislative momentum on Capitol Hill, the saccharin issue is not dead.

Its vital signs are good as its generates snappy one-liners and more support for its retention on the approved list of food's cosmetics and drug additives.

One of the punchiest one-liners was coined by Rep. Andrew Jacobs Jr., an Indiana Democrat and sponsor of a bill to label products: "Warning: The Canadians have determined that saccharin is dangerous to your rat's health."

Now comes Rep. George M. O'Brien, an Illinois Republican, with a string of peppers.

Noting that the Food and Drug Administration has softened its outright ban on saccharin with a proposal to let it be sold over the counter as a drug while prohibiting its use in food, O'Brien gives this interpretation:

"What the FDA is saying is that saccharin is not okay when it is put in the soda pop at the factory, but if you put the saccharin in the pop yourself, that's okay."

"FDA's position is that saccharin is safe if you buy it at the drug store, but unsafe if you buy it at the grocery store."

"FDA also wants to ban the use of saccharin in lipstick, toothpaste and mouthwash. It has not said how they got their rats to wear lipstick, brush their teeth and gargle."

"Bris said the 16,000 letters the FDA received in one month opposing the saccharin ban because saccharin-ingesting rats in Canadian tests developed tumors was 'far and away the strongest response of public opinion to a government action.'"

Other "controversies" pale in comparison, he believes.

"The saccharin battle isn't over," says O'Brien, sponsor of legislation to give FDA more leeway in interpreting the Delaney Amendment that led to saccharin's blacklisting.

Rep. Robert McCleary, another Illinois Republican, said that while Jacobs' one-liners have been "facetious" in making a bill to protect the health of rats, "the storm of protest" growing out of the FDA's impending saccharin ban "has raised a flurry of activity in Washington."

McCleary, like O'Brien and scores of other congressmen, has introduced a bill on behalf of the many users of saccharin who would lose the only sweetener many can use.

His bill would let the FDA ban food additives only "when they are shown to cause cancer when ingested in reasonable quantities."

McCleary observed that rats in the Canadian tests received saccharin equivalent to daily human consumption of over 800 diet soft drinks over an entire lifetime.

Congress is beginning to move on the saccharin issue. The House Subcommittee on Health and the Environment held two days of oversight hearings, and legislative hearings are scheduled late this month.

The Senate Subcommittee on Health has scheduled hearings on saccharin bills here on June 7 and 8.

Rep. John N. Erlenborn meanwhile gave his Illinois constituency an address to write to after a Downers Grove voter asked: "Where do I write to tell the government what I think it can do with its saccharin ban?"

"If you wish to tell the FDA what you think of its proposal," advises Erlenborn, "write to Hearing Clerk, FDA, 5600 Fishers Lane, Rockville, Md. 20857. The agency is accepting public comments until July 9."

Partners In Justice.

LAW DAY USA MAY 1

In appreciation of our individual rights and liberties under law, Sunday, May 1, has been set aside by the Congress and by Presidential proclamation as Law Day U.S.A.

The theme selected for the 20th annual nationwide observance of Law Day is both timely and relevant: "Partners In Justice."

Each of us as a responsible citizen is a partner in justice. We have an important role to play in support of our courts and judicial system. We must be willing to serve as jurors or witnesses when called upon; to keep abreast of the needs and problems facing our courts in an ever changing society; and to help support and strengthen the courts by encouraging legislative aid.

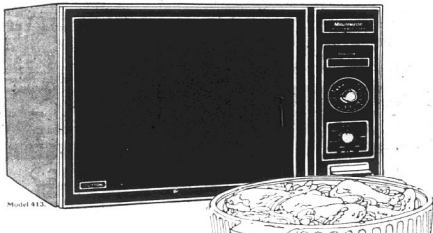

On this Law Day, let each of us reflect on our legal heritage and on the role of our courts in safeguarding individual rights. We at First Granite City National urge all citizens to recognize and to join in its observance.

Solar heating costly but can pay for itself

The day after President Carter told Americans that energy conservation is a must, students at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville heard an area pioneer in solar energy tell about the good and bad aspects of solar heating.

Eric Rinderer, president of an energy firm in Troy, told students in Physics Associate Professor George Henderson's energy crisis class that many solar heating units pay for themselves in a few years.

But he quickly added that the biggest drawback to present-day solar units is that the field is still so new.

"When a company sells a solar unit it is rid of the problem," Rinderer said. "The homeowner must bear the brunt of it. Getting companies to stand behind their warranties sometimes isn't easy."

He said that converting to solar energy is a big investment and the risks involved are much greater than those for any other appliance or item in a house.

Since use of solar energy is still so new in the United States, he said, there are a lot of poorly designed units on the market due to a lack of knowledge.

"Efficiency of various solar heating systems can vary almost 100 per cent, while various gas furnaces it only varies about 10 per cent," Rinderer said.

"Even after buying a solar heating system, it is hard to find a contractor to install it."

He said solar heating has not reached its potential in this country due to the abundance of natural resources — coal, gas and oil. But in other countries, such as Japan and Israel, solar energy is important.

Rinderer says his company has had success with a heated air circulating solar system from a corporation in Denver, Colo. He said this system is now being installed in a single-family residence and the estimated payback time will be under five years.

The system has a life expectancy of about 50 years. Rinderer thinks the air handling system is more cost effective than liquid handling solar systems since it has lower initial cost and lower maintenance.

He said that currently most solar collectors are installed for houses in the $65,000 to $80,000 price range but they also are feasible for people with $35,000 homes.

"In theory, this system can be used on millions of existing homes," he said. "By re-insulating and tightening up, the energy consumption rate can be reduced 65 to 70 per cent. Most of the heating in homes is dumped outside," he contended.

Rinderer gave what he called a "rough rule of thumb" for estimating how big solar units have to be.

A collector unit for a 2,000-square-foot house will be about one-fourth to one-third the area of the house. These collectors cost about $25 per square foot, which means a $15,000 investment for an air handling system.

After finding a contractor, suitable system and the money to install a solar heating system, people have no problems with current area zoning laws, Rinderer said; occasionally some neighbors are afraid that they will have a huge mirror reflecting sun into their windows, but this doesn't happen since the collector is on an angle to face the sun. During the summer, the collectors are covered to prevent deterioration.

He said that air circulating solar heating systems are almost maintenance free. After several years, the system may have to be opened so the collectors can be repainted if they become faded.

The rest of the system consists of a thermostat in the house, a blower and an electric motor which may have to be replaced after 10 to 15 years. All such solar heated homes have an electric back-up furnace.

Rinderer added that the President's message about energy may cause a solar energy panic.

"Mr. Carter is talking about giving a 40 per cent tax credit to people putting in solar heaters," he said.

"This opens up a whole new market to con artists who will be looking for people wanting to put in solar units, and it can cause a lot of potential harm to consumers. So, let the buyer beware."

Safety patrols to be honored

A contingent of school safety patrol members from Granite City area schools will attend the 18th annual School Safety Patrol Day at a baseball game Saturday at Busch Memorial Stadium.

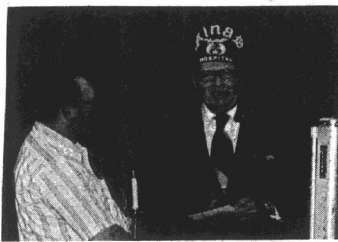

Patrol members will be guests of the St. Louis Cardinals and the Auto Club of Missouri. The Auto Club sponsors school safety patrol programs throughout the school year.

About 7,800 safety patrol members from Eastern Missouri and Southern Illinois will attend the game.

The occasion is a tribute to the lifesaving work of the school safety patrol, celebrating its 57th anniversary this year.

The Cardinals will be playing the Atlanta Braves in a 7 p.m. game.

Sr. hot line—free hunting and fishing

Q. Is it true that senior citizens can have free hunting and fishing licenses and register free at Illinois state parks?

A. That is correct. A law went into effect in January 1976 whereby a person over 65 may camp free in Illinois state parks by showing a proof-of-age ID.

Camping privileges include electrical hookups, camp pads, flush toilets, vehicle and electrical connections and tent camping.

For hunting in the field, it is necessary to register all guns with the Illinois Department of Law Enforcement.

With proof-of-age ID, those persons over 65 and children under 16 years of age may fish free. There are special events in state parks which seniors may wish to attend.

Those interested in additional information regarding state park facilities in their areas may write to the Department of Conservation, Division of Public Lands, Room 605, State Office Building, Springfield, Ill. 62766.

Write us at 160 N. LaSalle, Chicago, Ill. 60601 or 3 West Old Town Mall, Springfield, Ill. 62701 with questions or complaints, about any government agency or program. This column will be covering the many questions senior citizens may have on various subjects.

Proposed health code criticized

Legislative proposals to revise the state's mental health code were criticized sharply by the Illinois Psychiatric Society during the weekend.

"Enactment of the proposals would impede effective delivery of care to the mentally ill," said Dr. Alex J. Spadoni, president of the 1,000-member organization, at hearings conducted by State Sen. Richard M. Daley.

"Although some of the changes are necessary," he continued, "the new code would reduce the availability of care and criminalize mentally ill patients by subjecting them to excessive judicial procedures."

One of the most controversial provisions in the 26-bill package would require that involuntarily-committed patients must have been recently violent.

Asserting that similar legislation in Michigan and California has blocked intervention in psychiatric cases, Dr. Spadoni said, "Under the new code, Illinois citizens will be denied the benefits of recent psychiatric developments to help them return to productive lives.

"Because of strict admission requirements, we easily can predict the day when people who previously would have been taken to a mental health facility would be arrested indiscriminately for disorderly conduct."

Dr. Spadoni also said creation of a proposed legal advocacy service would result in serious confidentiality problems.

"The new code would require that the names of all 75,000 psychiatric patients hospitalized yearly in public and private facilities be forwarded automatically to the Legal Advocacy Service, without the patient's consent."

"We are shocked by such routine governmental intrusion into patients' lives. Legal services for the mentally ill must be provided more efficiently and economically through existing agencies," he said.

The proposed legislation is based on the final report of the Governor's Commission to Revise the Mental Health Code.

Gen. Robert Marshall named division engineer

Major General Robert C. Marshall will become division engineer of the Lower Mississippi Valley Division on July 1, succeeding Maj. Gen. Francis P. Kosach.

Gen. Marshall, who is now deputy chief of the Army Corps of Engineers in Washington, has been recommended by the Army to be president of the Mississippi River Commission. He will be replaced as deputy chief of engineers by Maj. Gen. Ernest Graves, who is now the director of civil works in the Office of the Chief of Engineers.

During his more than 30 years as an Army engineer, Gen. Marshall has held increasingly responsible positions as a military commander and as a manager of major programs. His experience in water resources management began in 1948 when he was assigned to the Corps' district office at Philadelphia.

He later served three years as district engineer of Mobile, Ala., and three years as assistant director of civil works, Office of the Chief of Engineers. His military experience includes service as a combat commander in Europe during World War II and in Vietnam. He has had other overseas assignments in Greece, Turkey and Korea.

In this country, he has been on the staff of the U.S. Military Academy, West Point, New York, and of the Forces Command at Fort Monmouth, Ga. Gen. Marshall also spent seven years in the ballistic missile defense program, where he was chief of the Site Activation Directorate of the Sentinel Systems Command, commanding general of the Safeguard System Command, and ballistic missile defense program manager.

A 1945 graduate of the Military Academy, he also earned a degree in civil engineering from Cornell University. He has completed the Army Command and General Staff College and the Industrial College of the Armed Forces.

His military awards and decorations include the Distinguished Service Medal, Legion of Merit, Silver Star and Purple Heart. Gen. Marshall is a native of Washington, D.C.

Railroads urge new com study

Washington Bureau
Railroad spokesmen, testifying against replacement of Alton Locks and Dam 26, urged Congress last week to defer an Army Corps of Engineers study to the Department of Transportation for a thorough analysis before authorizing new construction. Supported by university economists, they said the Army study was woefully inadequate and, if implemented, could endanger Midwestern railroads.

Railroad views were heard as the Senate Subcommittee on Water Resources resumed its hearings on the Alton facility. William J. Taylor, president and chief operating officer of the Illinois Central Gulf Railroad, said the rail industry is faced today with paying the "full cost of its operation" while the "barge industry gets a free right-of-way paid for in full" by the federal government.

"We have reached the stage where one or more erroneous decisions favoring one form of transport over another by the federal government may bring rail freight transportation to its knees," he said, noting later that Midwestern railroads are already "dramatically underutilized."

Taylor argued that Locks and Dam 26 is an "integral part" of what he described as the Army's proposed expansion of the entire Upper Mississippi-Illinois system.

"But even if no expansion were contemplated, systemic analysis would still be necessary," he said in urging Congress to conduct the same rigorous study.

John D. Sward, Chicago, senior market analyst of the Aitchison, Tokpeka and Santa Fe Railway Co., supported Taylor's assertion that Midwestern railroads are greatly underused.

"My basic conclusion, supported by this study, is that railroad routes covered in this study now have an annual unused North-South capacity of over 275 million tons, and that for a modest investment, that capacity could be substantially increased," Sward said.

He said this surplus capacity is enough now "to transport by rail all of the traffic which the Corps of Engineers projects will move through Locks and Dam 26 by the year 2040."

More rail capacity if required could be added for slightly more than $300 million in contrast to the Army's $1.2 billion proposal to increase Upper Mississippi and Illinois waterway barge capacity, Sward estimated.

Mark L. Smith, a marketing director for the Missouri-Pacific Railroad, told the subcommittee that "the fate of the Midwestern railroads is in the balance, based on the decision of Congress on Locks and Dam 26."

He said it is apparent the Army has not prepared an adequate transportation economics study to measure benefits and adverse effects.

"The Corps' latest strategy to obtain authorization for a new dam with one lock—and study the size of the second lock during construction—does not give Congress the opportunity to measure the costs and effects of the total project," he said.

"There is a study of a building only one lock at Alton," Smith said. The Corps project includes with the Alton project its plans for the entire Upper Mississippi and Illinois waterway.

He urged the subcommittee to have the Department of Transportation make the "proper" transportation studies. Transportation Secretary Brock Adams is regarded as friendly to railroads.

"Only after this information is divulged can the system project be properly analyzed," Smith said.

Similar criticism came from university economists, one of whom summed it up.

"It is my opinion that the Corps of Engineers has failed to justify the proposed replacement project," Prof. Joseph L. Carroll of Pennsylvania State University said.

"The official documents purporting to provide economic justification are sadly lacking in the quality of base data and analytical skill that one might reasonably expect from professional economists charged with conducting a cost-benefit analysis of such an important and costly project."

SPELLING BEE WINNERS in the Knights of Columbus Tri-Cities Council 1098 contest receive dictionaries, donated by the Granite City Press-Record, from James F. Haack, contest chairman. At left is Danny Counts, representing St. Elizabeth School, first place, and Janet Scannell, St. Margaret Mary School, second. Both eighth-grade pupils will compete at 8 p.m. Friday in the Madison County Knights of Columbus spelling bee at St. Peter and Paul Recreation Center in Collinsville. Two students from each of the five parochial schools in the Quad-Cities participated in the local bee this week.

Nursing homes say care is inadequate

Are Illinois residents of every age who are disabled, mentally ill or handicapped receiving less than adequate care in nursing homes throughout the state?

The answer is "yes," according to the Illinois Health Care Association, a state organization of over 200 nursing homes which provide such services.

The association, based in Springfield, IHCA members throughout the state will attend.

"It's time for some positive action to correct this dilemma," says IHCA President John Drexler, who is administrator of the Quinsippa Long Term Care Facility in Quincy.

"Nursing home operators are desperate. Unless we can get legislative approval of a realistic, cost-related reimbursement schedule on Medicaid, nursing homes are faced with three choices, none pleasant."

He listed these as (1) reducing the level and quality of care provided; (2) increasing the rates charged private patients in an effort to recoup losses due to inadequate Illinois Medicaid payments; or (3) closing of facilities.

"It is a shame and a disgrace in this day and age that one of the most prosperous states in the nation has been so slow to recognize this unrealistic situation and to come to the assistance of these patients, many of whom helped to create the prosperity we now enjoy," Drexler comments.

Appearing on the May 24 program, entitled "Legislative Encounter," will be Arthur F. Quern, director of the Illinois Department of Public Aid, which administers Medicaid; Dr. Paul Q. Peterson, director of the Illinois Department of Public Health; Lieutenant Governor Dave O'Neal and Mrs. Josephine Oblinger, director of the Department of Aging.

Some of the legislators scheduled to appear are Senator Don Moore, chairman of the Legislative Advisory Committee on Public Aid;

Representative William Kempners, chairman of the Medicaid Subcommittee to the Legislative Advisory Committee on Public Aid; Rep. Ben Polk, vice-chairman of the House Subcommittee on Long Term Care, and Rep. Harold Byers, a member of that subcommittee.

The event will trigger a statewide campaign encouraging the public to contact legislators about the state's role in caring for medically-needs citizens.

Study converting mental hospitals for prison use

Under Governor James R. Thompson's eight-point plan to ease overcrowding in the state's penal institutions, announced during the weekend, 700 new inmate beds will be added to the state's correctional system by January 1978.

This is to be accomplished through immediate $4,500,000 conversion of the Lincoln Developmental Center Annex in Logan County to a medium-security institution.

The governor also called for an immediate review by the Department of Corrections and the Parole and Pardon Board to find non-violent, one-time offenders in the state's prisons and consider them for possible early release.

He stressed that this would be a one-time action, aimed only at those persons whose records show a single offense of a non-violent nature.

"It is intended that this review be taken only once to give immediate relief to the entire remaining prison population and to reduce the expense of keeping this type of person behind bars," Thompson said.

The eight-point proposal made by the governor includes:

1. Immediate conversion of the Lincoln Annex facility to provide 700 new inmate beds, a move to gain a sound facility built to last many years.
2. An immediate review by the Department of Corrections and the Parole and Pardon Board to identify non-violent, one-time offenders who may be candidates for early release.
3. Immediate review of Parole and Pardon Board policies, targeted at establishing better guidelines and better defined criteria for parole.
4. Repeal of the statute allowing misdemeanor offenders to be sentenced into state institutions, aimed at providing an additional 400 beds.
5. Paying counties for temporarily housing convicted felons in county jails until space is available in a state prison.

6. Directing Department of Mental Health Director Robert DeVito to report to the governor by April 29 all mental health facilities that might feasibly be converted to penal use.

7. Directing Department of Corrections Director Charles Rowe, Illinois Law Enforcement Commission Chairman Daniel Weil and Prisons Liaison Gayle Franzen to report as soon as possible on the need to build a completely new Illinois prison facility.

If such a facility is needed, the report would include recommendations on size, cost, operating costs and site locations for a new prison.

8. Three actions in Kane County:—Keeping the St. Charles Youth Center operating as a rehabilitation center.

—Keeping the Valley View Youth Center operating as a juvenile detention center, with a fence bordering the adjoining homes moved back from the institution's property lines to afford more privacy for residents.

—Moving the present juvenile population at the Geneva Youth Center to other existing centers. The Geneva facility would be closed, its contents salvaged where possible, and the facility offered for sale, if the General Assembly approves its return to the tax rolls.

READY FOR DISPLAY at tonight's GCHS South fine art festival is this sculpture of an old woman sculpted by senior Mary Bigliam. Art works by numerous South artists will be shown from 7 p.m. until 9:30 p.m. in conjunction with the South Concert Band performance.

Art display, band concert at GC South High tonight

Granite City High School South will present its first annual "Fine Art Festival" at the school this evening from 7 p.m. until 9:30 p.m.

The festival will consist of an art show presented by the students and faculty of the South art department and a band concert presented by the music department, consisting of South's Concert Band.

The band concert will start at 8 p.m., ending approximately at 9 p.m. The public will have an hour before the concert to see the displays in the corridors and art rooms. The art show will close at 9:30 p.m. to allow the public to see the displays after the concert.

Terry Waffler will direct the band in the concert. The faculty and senior students of David Culp, Miss Ann Rich, William Smoltz and Mrs. Phyllis Weiss will be present to answer questions about work created in the department or any inquiries about purchasing student work.

The faculty at South feels this will be the first time the art students will receive recognition for their efforts. Students who excel in athletics, speech and other fields get recognition but the outstanding art students seldom are given any personal publicity, a teacher noted.

The festival will contain graduating seniors' work and each student will have his own display. The show will include oil paintings, watercolors, pen and ink, gouche, brayer, prints, ceramics, tempera, sculpture, jewelry, pencil, and pastels.

"The purpose of the festival is to extend culture and appreciation for the fine arts in our community and give individual recognition for the work being done by the students and faculty," Mrs. Weiss explained.

"We hope the community backs us by attending this event and showing its support of the excellent young people we have attending our school. We adults are always ready to criticize the young but not enough of us are willing to put forth the effort to attend their activities that support them."

"We are extremely proud of the quality of work done by our students this year and we hope to show the citizens of Granite City," she added.

The student work on display Thursday evening, plus many other pieces, will be included in the annual "Acre of Art Show" Sunday afternoon. This show will also include art work from all the schools in our school district, she noted.

CADDIES DON'T NEED TO HAVE WORK PERMIT

Q Now that summer is almost here, my 14-year-old son wants to get a job as a caddy at our local golf course. Should he get a work permit for this?

Illinois Labor Department: Although the Child Labor Law states that no minor under 16 years of age may be permitted to work unless he or she has a work certificate, one of the exceptions to this act is caddying at a golf course. As long as your son is at least 13 years of age, he is not required to have a work certificate for this type of employment.

DELICATE MODELING is required as the finishing touches are applied by senior Tom Francis to his terracotta sculpture of a seated Indian. The detailed figure will be among hundreds of items displayed at Granite City High School South this evening and during Sunday afternoon's Acre of Art Show at Memorial Gymnasium.

COPYING PICASSO in preparation for tonight's art show is Tammie Willis of South High School. Copying a master's painting is one of the requirements of her art course and she selected an early Picasso.

CERAMIC SCULPTURE by Tammie Bowles, a senior, is completed with the aid of Mrs. Phyllis Weiss, art teacher. The sculpture of a Rabbit will be on display tonight during the fine art festival at Granite City High School South.

Special Olympics fund campaign

Tri-Cities Chapter 841 of the Council for Exceptional Children, will sponsor a fund-raising campaign this weekend, to secure funds to send children from Granite City, Madison and Venice, to the Special Olympics, the chairman, Mark St. Ivany, announces.

Members of the Council and Parents for Special Education will collect donations at area banks on Friday, April 28, and on Saturday, April 30, they will be at local shopping centers. They have also planned a road block at Sixth Street and Madison Avenue, Madison, for Saturday.

The chairman reports the Special Olympics provides an opportunity for exceptional children to participate in swimming, track and field events, not only to obtain ribbons and medals, but to gain a better self-concept.

There will be approximately 50 children attending the regional event on Saturday, May 7, at a Belleville high school. Children who receive first or second place honors in any event will have the opportunity to compete at the state olympics at Chicago in July, St. Ivany added.

All funds collected will be used to provide transportation, room and board and uniforms for those competing. Contributions may also be mailed to the Region I Office, 2801 Madison Ave., in care of Council for Exceptional Children, it was noted.

Secretaries Week mark special daily events

According to Lillian E. Bismeyer, CPFS, the International President of The National Secretaries Association (NSA), "Secretaries Week is an appropriate time to distinguish the characteristics of professional secretaries from those who are content to get by with meeting minimum requirements. Professional career secretaries do not work in a vacuum, but are the hub of a highly interactive work environment. They seek challenges and responsibilities. Job satisfaction comes when they are stimulated by encouragement to expand their horizons, sharpened by the opportunity to exercise judgment, and appreciated for their seasoned experience."

Members of the Tri-Cities Chapter, NSA, are seeking to observe the 1977 Secretaries Week in a professional manner, at the suggestion of Chapter President, Mrs. Gail Foley, CPFS, who is the secretary to Vice President Paul Hatfield, Ralston Purina. Members started the observance of the 26th annual Secretaries Week by gathering at the church of member Judy Novosel, the Emmanuel Baptist Church on Pontoon Road, to attend services as a group, Sunday.

Monday's event was devoted to seeking new and better ways to perform more efficiently on the job, under the heading of "Be Nice to the Boss" Day. On Tuesday 10 senior members of the Future Secretaries Association spent the day in offices with NSA members. Taking part in this event were Lisa St. Cyn, Elaine Goetting, and Kathleen DeRuntz - Ralston Purina; Leslie Houser and

It offers women who have been out of school for a number of years an opportunity to compare ideas, set goals, and receive aid in decision-making, it was explained.

The registration fee of $5 per person includes coffee, doughnuts and lunch.

The woman's workshop is being conducted by the Belleville Area College Counseling and Human Development Division. For advance reservations or information, Quad-Cityans may call 235-2700, extension 206.

Wednesday was Secretaries Day, and the local chapter has been corresponding with Pete Hanson, the creator of "Lolly" which is a daily secretarial comic strip in a St. Louis paper, for many years, to let him know the dates of Secretaries Week. This is the 10th year that he has devoted cartoon strips to this special week, with special emphasis on Secretaries Day.

This morning 16 Future Secretaries from Madison High School rode the bus to St. Louis, accompanied by FSA Chairman Charlie Yuvovic, to spend the day in offices of First National Bank in St. Louis, Mercantile, and Boatmen's. Those assigned to First National were Darlene Gilliam, Gaylene Landwehrmirmier, Brenda Ratliff, Linda Whitener, Karen Wiggins, and Patricia Youngman. They were all guests of First National Bank in St. Louis for lunch.

Tonight's event, the highlight of the week, is the Secretaries Week dinner. About 60 people are expected to attend the event, to be held at the Sunset Hills Country Club in Edwardsville. The guest speaker is William Cheek, a former vice president of Ralston Purina, who retired at the end of last year in order to form his own professional speaking bureau. Entertainment will be furnished by a group from Sweet Adelines. The past recipients of the Secretary of the Year (SOTY) award will be announced and presented with a red rose, the association flower, and the winner of this year's SOTY title will be honored with a certificate and a bouquet of red roses.

The festivities for the week will conclude with an 8 a.m. continental breakfast at the home of Mrs. Sally Gracey, Saturday morning.

Quad-City Mayors Paul Schuler, Mike Sasyk and William Ebersold proclaimed April 24-30 as the 1977 Secretaries Week. They ask all business and industry join in giving due recognition to this group.

Their proclamation said in part—

Whereas, in keeping with the best tradition of their professions, secretaries are accepting vital responsibilities and are performing important roles in commerce, industry, and government; and

Whereas, the efforts of these professionals and their many contributions to the nation's progress are significant; and

Whereas, to recognize the secretaries now doing their jobs diligently and to encourage others to enter this worthy career, it is essential that rightful acknowledgment be given their talents.

Parade of Flags on Monday, May 30

The annual "Parade of Flags" will be held Monday,
May 30 at 10 a.m., according to Lynn H. Mitkos, chairman of the event.

The parade is sponsored by the Disabled American Veterans (DAV), Quad-City
Chapter 53.

"This observance is intended to preserve the memory of all our fallen soldiers who died in United States wars," Mitkos said.

"At this time, DAV Chapter 53 would like to extend a warm welcome to everyone in the Quad-Cities, to attend our memorial service in Memorial Park across from St. Elizabeth Hospital and give honor and remembrance of our fallen comrades.

"Anyone who has a flag of a deceased veteran and wishes it to be flown on May 30 may do so by contacting our chapter at 876-6718," Mitkos said.

At the group's meeting Monday, Commander Bob Kennerly appointed Andy Gitchoff, Mac MacGuire, Bob Douglas, James Miller Mitkos, and the commander as delegates to the state convention in Peoria, June 3, 4 and 5, with Charles Rittenberger as an alternate delegate.

Acre of Fine Art show Sunday in South gym

Several thousand persons are expected to view over 2,000 pieces of art at the 16th annual Acre of Fine Arts Show to be held Sunday from 1 p.m. until 4 p.m. in the gym at Granite City High School South, according to Eugene L. Alassi, district art consultant.

The admission is free and the exhibit is sponsored by the Parent-Teacher Associations in Granite City under direction of Alassi, who is the district consultant for art education.

Performing in front of the Memorial gym will be the North High School Steel Band, the Steel City Bells Pom-Pom Squad

tion of Robert D. Todoroff.

The South Vocal Chorus also will perform under the direction

Corn crop insurance by Apr. 30

As announced by the marketing chief of the Indianapolis Regional Office, Loran Schultz, the final date to apply for federal crop insurance protection on corn for the 1977 crop year in counties served by that office in Illinois, Indiana, Michigan and Ohio is April 30.

Soybean applications may be taken through May 10. The final date to apply for insurance on oats was April 22 for the 1977 crop year.

Farmers can apply for federal crop insurance by coming to the Madison County office located at Jamestown Road N., Breese, Ill. (telephone 508-4888).

Farmers may wish to phone for an appointment since the office has been extremely busy this season. Participation in the federal crop insurance program for 1977 is at an all-time high.

Farmers are using the program to insure their costs of production and in many cases to strengthen their borrowing power, a U.S. Department of Agriculture spokesman said.

Farmers carrying the federal crop insurance protection at the present time who wish to change their price-per-bushel election must submit a written request prior to the closing sale dates mentioned above.

receiving acreage report forms shortly and should complete them and return them to their respective offices as soon as the insured crops are planted, the spokesman noted.

107 attend Protestant Welfare annual dinner

The annual dinner of Protestant Welfare Association, Inc., held last week at St. John United Church of Christ, 2901 Nameoki Road, also marked 23 years of services to the people of the Quad-City area, provided by volunteer members and clergymen, and was attended by 107 members and guests.

Hugh Foster, a member of the First Baptist Church, served as master of ceremonies and the Rev. Dr. Paul Surbey, pastor of the host church gave the invocation.

The welcoming address was by Kenneth Whittington, president of the organization, and a member of the First Church of the Nazarenes.

Foster introduced special guests and other officers who will serve for the ensuing year. He is the first vice-president; Raymond Vaughn, second vice-president; Orville W. Ganz, treasurer; Mrs. Irma Taylor, executive secretary; Mrs. Norma Petty, office secretary and Mrs. Gladys Woker, assistant secretary.

Special music was provided by soloist Patricia Cropp, accompanied at the piano by Charles Thatcher.

The Rev. Roy Johnson, pastor of the Third Baptist Church, spoke following the dinner and the Rev. Robert Kettelbusch, minister of St. Peter Evangelical United Church of Christ offered the closing prayer.

Special recognition was accorded to the banquet committee, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Foster, Mrs. Gladys Woker, Mrs. Pat Azari, Mrs. Marie Whittle and Mrs. Janette Krause.

During the evening meeting the president gave a resume of the activities and history of the organization. He said the Protestant Welfare Association was organized as an emergency agency during the 23 years has served 6,596 active cases and hundreds of incidental cases.

"We co-operate with all local county, state and federal agencies, including all churches, for the betterment of health, welfare, and education of the Quad-Cities community and its people," Whittington added.

The president announced the organization has wheelchairs, hospital beds, "walkers" and crutches to lend to the public. Thirty churches and four organizations belong to the Association, and the ministers of the churches serve as directors for the day assigned to them, and counsel with people, in addition to helping them materially.

"We participate in the Mobile Meals program by providing volunteer workers from various protestant and catholic churches and civic organizations. We bring to your attention we are always in need of more volunteers. St. Elizabeth Hospital prepares the meals for the elderly, ill and indigent people, according to the diet prescribed by their doctor, and our volunteers deliver the hot meals during the noon hour five days a week, the president reported.

Mr. Whittington concluded with the report the organization delivered 9,411 meals during 1976 and since about one-third of the elderly people have such low incomes. Protestant Welfare depends on donations to help in this project. Contributions may be sent to Mobile Meals and mailed to Protestant Welfare Association, Inc., 2602 Edison Ave., the president said.

TWO STORY BUFF BRICK home of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Taff, 2251 Cleveland Blvd., which will be open to the public for the annual house tour of the Downtown Neighborhood Restoration Society on May 15. Focal point of the house is a chapel room with a stained glass window overlooking the open oak staircase in the entry hall.

MEANARNEY BRICK HOME at 2324 Cleveland Blvd., built in 1906 and exemplifying a typical brick home in Granite City during the early 1900 period. Outstanding feature of this house is the paneling and doors made of pine and maple, now owned by Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Ritchie, is one of five homes included in the House Tour of the Downtown Neighborhood Restoration Society on May 15.

Five Granite City homes built in the early 1900's and restored to exhibit the original beauty of fine work of use for the woodwork, staircases and paneling, and featuring stained-glass windows, unusual ceilings and fireplaces, will be open to the public on May 15 in the annual house tour, sponsored by the Downtown Neighborhood Restoration Society.

Included on the itinerary of the tour is one downtown church, the First United Presbyterian Church, 22nd Street and Delmar Avenue. The church was organized on Easter Sunday, April 15, 1906, with 112 charter members. On May 26, 1907, the stone basement was dedicated. Work on the sanctuary began in 1915 and was completed in 1916. Since that time an educational wing has been added and other numerous improvements have been made through the years. Greeters will be present on the day of the tour to answer any questions concerning the church and its functions. The

Lydia Circle plans events

Lydia Circle of the Nameoki United Methodist Church completed plans to participate in the mother and daughter salad buffet to be held at the church on May 9, at a meeting held in the home of Mrs. Lucille Webb, 2841 Iowa St.

Entertainment at the annual affair will be presented by The Looking Glass Players of Lebanon, Ill. Mrs. Effie Vrenick served as co-hostess and the president, Mrs. Virgie Barks, offered the opening meditations.

Mrs. Barks also gave a devotional reading entitled, "God Is Where The Action Is" from the Upper Room magazine.

The circle will sponsor a party for all residents at Colonial Haven Nursing Home who will observe birthdays in May. The social event is set for May 23, the president announced, and each honoree will receive a hand made gift and refreshments will be served. Members discussed combining the May meeting with a trip to a point of interest within 100 miles, with final plans to be made later.

Mrs. Gladys Russell gave a talk on a seminar at Oral Roberts University, which she and her husband had attended. Mrs. Barks reported meetings will resume in September with Mrs. Gladys Russell and Mrs. Marian Whitaker serving as co-hostesses.

The benediction was given by Mrs. Helen Metcalf and the co-hostesses served a dessert luncheon to Mesdames Mary Bailey, Mildred Hess, Marie Isenberg, Pauline Mahon, Helen Metcalf, Frances Reid, Viola Thornsberry, Gladys Russell, Lucille Russell, Dorothy Wallace, Marian Whitaker and Jessie Sayers and those named.

EXPERT APPRAISING
MORRIS REALTY CO.

Rev. David Maxton currently is serving as pastor.

The tour is designed to show the possibilities inherent in the older houses in the downtown area and to show decorating schemes depicting the imagination and initiative of individual home owners to create fine homes in a refreshing atmosphere.

In each of the houses the owner has retained in part, the fixtures, wood work, doors or various outstanding features of the original building, and has incorporated new and modern installations* and interior decorating to complement the 1900 era.

Houses on the tour, which is planned for Sunday, May 15, from 1 to 6 p.m., will be Mr. and Mrs. Nick Carson, 2435 Cleveland Blvd.; Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Ritchie, 2324 Cleveland Blvd.; Mr. and Mrs. Jack French, 2250 Cleveland Blvd.; Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Taff, 2251 Cleveland Blvd.; and Mr. and Mrs. Pat Murphy, 2242 Delmar Ave.

Local florists will donate various hanging plants and potted flowering plants for each of the tour houses to co-ordinate the overall decor.

Floral Originals will provide plants for both the Carson and Ritchie homes, Herring Florists for the Taff residence, Ferd's Flowers will contribute to the Murphy house and Bob's Flowers for the French home.

Original light fixtures, leaded French doors and cherry kitchen cabinets are a few of the unique features in the Carson home. The house was built in 1921 by a plumbing contractor, which accounts for the unusual tiled shower in the bathroom. Among other remodeling, the Carsons have completely redone their kitchen, including the open-hearth fireplace built by Mr. Carson.

The Ritchie home, built in 1906, was purchased in 1961 by the present owners and has undergone a complete remodeling. Solid wood paneling and unusual ceilings are in the downstairs rooms and all doors are made of pine and maple.

William Champion, a Granite City merchant, had the house at 2250 Cleveland Blvd. constructed for his family in 1907. It was one of the first in town built with air registers instead of water radiators. The dwelling has a grand staircase, beautiful fireplace and built-in bookshelves.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack French owns the property now. They are restoring the home to its original condition using mixed period antiques and original art works, several of which were done by members of the family.

The buff brick house at 2251 Cleveland Blvd., now owned by Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Taff, was erected in 1904 and purchased by the present owners in 1975. When entering the front entry hall the visitor will note the open staircase, constructed of oak as is all the woodwork in the house. Two parlors, each with ornate fireplaces, have unusual full-length columns. The original light fixtures still is being used in the dining room. Mr. and Mrs. Pat Murphy purchased their home at 2242 Delmar Ave., last year. They have completed remodeling the interior and will now turn their attention to the outside.

The kitchen is bright and cheerful, and the master bedroom is created in an old country decor.

A craft and entertainment fair will be in progress during the house tour on the 24th Street midway between Cleveland Boulevard and Delmar Avenue. Craftsmen will be on hand to demonstrate their skills, and a variety of items will be on sale at reasonable prices.

Mrs. Judy Padgett is general chairman of the project. Other committee chairmen include Mrs. Viola Favier and Mrs. Emylee Alford, craft fair; tickets, Dave Hug and Jack French; booklet design, Lois Gunderson; sales and ads, Harriet Byers; staff, Val and John Bergscheider; yard signs, John Mefford; publicity, Carl Kittel and Walt Padgett; canvas standards, Jim Harmon, and flowers, Sonya Oshanesian.

Tickets costing $2.50 in advance may be purchased from any member. On the day of the tour tickets will cost $3.

DOWNTOWN LANDMARK at 2250 Cleveland Blvd. constructed in 1907 under the direction of William Champion, a prominent Granite City merchant, featuring a grand staircase, beautiful fireplace and built-in bookshelves, is included in the May 15 House Tour. The residence is now owned by Mr. and Mrs. Jack French.

Centralized street authority has worked in Madison, Venice

It is not necessary to be critical of Street Superintendent Lionel Portillo to conclude that divided authority over streets has been a burden to Granite Cityans.

For many years, citizens have encountered problems in obtaining smooth and clean streets. A separately-elected superintendent has had supervisory jurisdiction while the council-mayor form of government has controlled the purse strings and also received much of the blame for street conditions which it had little direct power to remedy.

Council action Tuesday night to make the superintendent office appointive after the current 1975-79 term will be viewed by some as political, and obviously there are two competing political factions.

It also will be regarded by some as a step to make government more accountable, with responsibility and authority placed together so that, once and for all, it will be clear who to criticize or praise for dirty and defective streets or the opposite.

An example is the Downtown area, where cosmetic aspects, parking needs, traffic flow and street appearance are seen as major issues affecting future commercial viability. Discussions unrelated to Tuesday's City Council action brought out in recent weeks that Central Business District merchants have been unable to target a single municipal office at which to voice their views.

Madison and Venice traditionally have been noted for the overall condition of their streets and their speed in handling repairs, snow removal and other tasks. Both cities have appointive superintendents of streets. Perhaps Granite City residents and visitors will benefit from a similar approach.

Planning, evaluation, priorities are United Way '77 goals

An undertaking of the Tri-Cities Area United Way's Priorities Planning Committee is intended to attain closer links and increased mutual understanding between UW agencies, governmental bodies and others providing human services in this community.

Expanded discussions and periodic workshops are being proposed, with both the unsalaried boards and the salaried administrators participating. Facets of the 1977 program include:

Program planning — determining in advance the goals to be accomplished and the means by which these objectives are to be attained — deciding what to do, how to do it and who is to do it. Attention will focus on "Where are we, where are we going, and how do we get there?"

Program evaluation — study of programs to ascertain their effectiveness in fulfilling their goals — a means to compare agency results with services with that agency's goals to determine the degree of goal attainment. Clearly-defined goals will be emphasized.

Priorities budgeting — allocation of resources on the basis of ranked community needs — a synthesis and application of data collected from program planning and evaluation. The decision-making process, based on more criteria than traditional and past levels of funding, will seek to pinpoint resources and the services most needed and sought by Quad-Cityans.

Border issues being given deserved priority by President

Press-Record Washington Bureau — Solutions to thorny national problems rarely spring full blown from the minds of enlightened leaders. Rather, as problems mature, a consensus on solutions emerges, first vaguely and later in bolder outlines, much as a photograph becomes visible in a developing solution.

So it is with problems along the long border shared by the United States and Mexico. As President Carter prepares to accept recommendations from his Cabinet, some outlines emerge.

There is undeniable agreement that the preservation of dignity and human rights are paramount in any solutions to illegal alien or border crime problems.

How to achieve stability at the border and equity for aliens living in the United States — and yet impose more stringent controls on immigration, the drug traffic and the myriad of other problems that relate to the international border — will be a tough task for the Carter administration.

The President's initial moves are excellent. Mrs. Carter's attendance at the inauguration of President Jose Lopez Portillo last December was a nice personal touch.

Pres. Carter's invitation to President Lopez Portillo to be the first chief of state to visit Washington during his administration established the value that Mr. Carter places on improving relations with Mexico.

The President's appointment of Leonel Castillo to be the new Immigration and Naturalization Service director underlined his sensitivity to the Mexican-American community in the United States.

And his selection of Gov. Patrick J. Lucy of Wisconsin, a politician, to be U.S. ambassador to Mexico signaled Mexico City that pragmatic considerations rank above theory.

Mr. Carter has made it clear that he wants to establish a personal relationship with President Lopez Portillo. He also has made it clear that he will apply his own perseverance to remove as many negative elements in U.S. policy as he can so far as Mexico is concerned.

The President is moving forcefully on the short-range problems. From what has been leaked and published already, it is evident that Washington will improve the efficiency and morale of the Border Patrol, even as its numbers are increased significantly.

Amnesty will be granted to those aliens who, although here illegally, have established roots. This will require identification, a touchy issue.

Mr. Castillo's determination to implement swiftly the program to replace 17 existing "green cards" with a single, counterfeit-proof identification card for legal Mexican workers appears to meet the standard of dignity.

The next step should be an equally foolproof Social Security card for all 80 million workers in the United States. It should be made clear that these cards are not a national identification card, but are to be presented only when a person is applying for a job — whatever his heritage.

Finally, the Carter administration is moving toward the only possible solution to curb the rampant traffic in drugs and humans: swift and certain punishment for all those involved in the traffic.

Our recommendation to the President is to complete as quickly as he can the law enforcement part of his border policy.

The quicker that is done, the quicker the United States and Mexico can begin to address the real and much more difficult problem — the economic disparity that divides the two nations.

Given the wealth and resources of the United States and Mexico, that problem is not unsolvable, either.

Situated on the boundary between Madison and an unincorporated area of the county, the corner is the location of a sharp turn of Highway 203.

Beverage deposit bill called absurd

To the Editor:

The Illinois House imposed an April 30 deadline for reporting bills out of committee. Consequently, we have spent many hours in committee hearing bills of varying importance.

One piece of legislation of particular concern to our district is HB 730, the so-called "bottle bill," which would severely reduce employment at Granite City Steel and Owens-Illinois.

I testified against the bill before the Environmental, Energy and Natural Resources Committee and would like to summarize the testimony.

If the bill becomes law, nearly 4,000 skilled blue collar workers in Illinois would permanently lose their jobs.

The proponents have nothing to offer these people to replace the skills that will no longer be marketable.

When plants shut down or substantially reduce their employment, it takes many years for the workers to find new jobs. When they finally do, in virtually every case the new job is lower rated with less pay.

The bill has singled out the beverage container as the guilty culprit.

The only statistics I have seen on bottles indicates that returnables account for nearly as much litter as non-returnables.

A deposit will not prevent that segment of the population that insists on littering from continuing their filthy habit.

If we could stop litter so easily, then let's put a deposit on all litter and see if it disappears. Let's put a deposit on bottle caps, cigarette packages, cigar butts, hamburger wrappers, old tires, used mattresses, paper bags, ballpoint pens, electric light bulbs and, in fact, every consumer item with a limited life.

Such a proposal is obviously absurd. In fact, it is just as absurd as putting a deposit on beverage containers.

We will eliminate litter only when we can change the habits of those who litter. Litter is a social problem that will not be solved by an ill-considered nickel.

The issue of energy savings has been percolating. The average household uses more energy for electric blankets than for non-returnable bottles.

Returnables use more energy in manufacture; they must be cleaned when returned—which requires more energy—they must be warehoused in buildings that require energy to construct and maintain, and they must be collected in trucks that take energy to operate.

If there is a net energy saving, it is probably less than $2 per household.

And, to accomplish this, what are we asked to sacrifice? White-collar bedroom communities are asked to sacrifice nothing. My community is being asked to eliminate the jobs of 500 skilled blue collar employees.

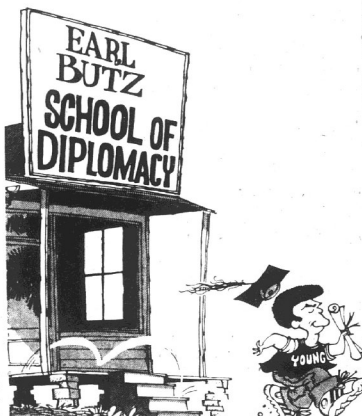

What are our priorities today? If one looks at the real workers face, our first priority is obvious.

It is simply the creation of genuine full employment—job opportunities at decent wages for all those who are able to work and seek employment.

This is an issue basic to the questions of economic justice and social priorities. HB 730 asks us to abandon this goal in search of a fairy tale clean highways.

The bill received the minimum votes, ten required to be reported out of committee. It will now have to be defeated on the House floor.

New consumer advocate plan

By RICHARD L. LESHNER
President

U.S. Chamber of Commerce
Along with the first cabrass and dandelions of spring, that hardy perennial, the Agency for Consumer Advocacy bill, is popping up again.

This year, the idea is to railroad it through Congress so fast that effective opposition won't have time to develop.

The ACA is an idea whose time has come and gone. Since its proposal eight years ago — when it was called the Consumer Protection Agency — there has been a revolution in consumer protection acts and regulatory reorganization.

These new developments include the establishment of the Consumer Product Safety Commission, the Federal Energy Agency, the Occupational Safety and Health Administration, the National Highway Traffic Safety Commission, Improvements Act, the Hart-Scott Antitrust Improvements Act, the Toxic Substances Control Act, the Medical Devices Amendments of 1976, the "Government in the Sunshine" Act, the Freedom of Information Act Amendments and countless other consumer protection bills.

Sounders "advocacy" sounds like a great idea, in the abstract. It isn't until you get beneath the labels that you learn what a bureaucratic farce the sponsors have in mind.

Aid the President and Congress in identifying inefficient government programs. (All of the above) — Help correct inequities in those programs that are designed to protect consumers. (Consumer advisor: Paperwork)

Commission; ombudsman and consumer advocates in the various federal agencies and departments; senators and representatives)

— Help fight inflation by monitoring governmental actions that unnecessarily raise costs for consumers. (Council on Wage and Price Stability)

— Litigate on behalf of consumers in court. (Federal Trade Commission; Justice Department; Consumer Product Safety Commission; others)

The truth is, the ACA would have nothing to do with individual consumers. Rather, it would function as a taxpayer-financed mouthpiece and lawyer for self-appointed consumer activists.

It is impossible to improve upon former Senator Sam Ervin's caustic summation of the premise behind this proposal:

"Because the bureaucracy has become too pervasive to enable consumers to appear before existing federal agencies, it is proposed that Congress create yet another federal agency before which consumers also will not appear."

The ACA would also have a license to interfere in the proceedings of other federal regulatory agencies which were themselves established to represent the consumer.

These other agencies are not exactly speedy now. It took the Federal Communications Commission 15 years to wrap up its longest-running case.

By contrast, the Interstate Commerce Commission managed to approve the sale of the troubled Rock Island Railroad in only 12 years. In the meantime, unfortunately, the railroad went bankrupt.

The point is, the consumer has an interest in promptness and economy in government action, too.

Arguments that such an agency will "start small" are an insult to the intelligence of everyone who can remember when the whole government was "small."

All government agencies start small. The universal problem is that they don't stay that way very long.

To the Editor:

Now that the various elections are over, it is time for those elected to get on with their duties in the positions to which they were chosen to serve.

And it is also time for the citizens to forget whether their candidate won or lost and to turn their attentions to the activities of those elected.

We should all be concerned with the upgrading of our community which affects our lives, both socially and economically.

By getting more involved with community affairs, the gap that separates the elected and the citizens can be narrowed and a more cooperative attitude can be generated.

We, as citizens, can perform a very valuable service by exercising the rights of the First Amendment which guarantees all Americans the right of free speech.

By speaking out for or against the policies of these elected officials, we can make sure they become aware that they are being observed and that their actions are being judged.

They should be praised for helping the community, as well as denounced when we want them to know we disapprove of their actions when something is not in our best interest.

We should not take for granted the actions that benefit the community, but rather let them know we are appreciative. These elected officials, whether they be federal, state, county, city, school board or park board, are elected by the people to serve the people, and are acting for the people.

We as citizens should get more involved, especially with local matters — since they affect us more directly — by attending the various meetings held by these elected people.

Only by becoming involved can we observe first-hand the functions and the manner in which they operate, and learn how to approach them with our problems to which we are seeking a solution.

We must periodically remind the elected that the community belongs to the people and that the elected are only representing us and our interests.

Wants attention to real problems

To the Editor:

Glenview and Lexington residents, a notice of a new ordinance was in the Press-Record on Monday, April 18, on Page 28.

This ordinance designates the intersection of Wilson Avenue and National Avenue as a "stop intersection" and makes it "unlawful to drive any southerly bound vehicle on National Avenue without first bringing the vehicle to a full stop."

This ordinance was passed by the City Council after being presented through a motion by Earl Baker, alderman for the 6th Ward, and seconded by Gerald Parnley, also an alderman for the 6th Ward.

I live in the area specified by this ordinance, and I have no objections to a stop sign at this intersection. However, I think the above mentioned gentlemen should be made aware of the fact that there is already a stop sign at that location.

In fact, the stop sign was there when I moved into this neighborhood 11 years ago. Evidently neither of the aldermen saw fit to personally inspect the proposed location and gather accurate information on the specific needs of the area.

This error might not have occurred if proper procedures had been followed. Normally, all ordinances of this type are to be approved by the Traffic Committee prior to a vote by the City Council.

However, it is my understanding that there were a number of stop sign ordinances that bypassed this procedure around election time, and this was one of them.

This is just one more example of the lack of interest our 6th Ward aldermen have shown in our area. If we are to obtain solutions for our true needs, we must spell them out in detail.

I urge all residents of Glenview and Lexington to tell them of our real problems, such as stormwater drainage, vandalism and crime control, reckless and careless drivers, mosquito control, street and sidewalk repairs, safer traffic conditions for the Maryville Road project, etc.

And don't forget, if you approach Wilson Avenue while driving south on National Avenue, be sure to stop twice — once for each stop sign.

WILSON RESIDENT

Paper has helped animal protection

To the Editor:

The Association for the Protection of Animals would like to give thanks to the Press-Record and to Val Evenden for being concerned and so helpful to our organization.

Without the Press-Record's help, we couldn't have found homes for the hundreds of animals in our care throughout the years.

Our members have put their energy, hearts and talents into our organization, but without the Press-Record being so willing to help us we couldn't have been so successful at our work.

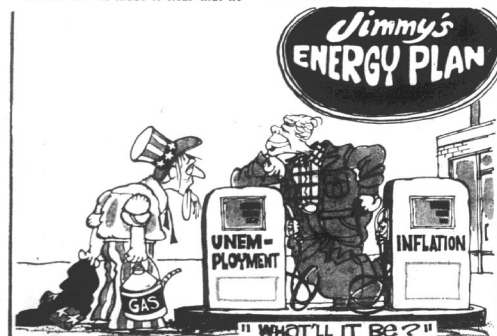

We have special thanks for Val Evenden. She has been wonderful to us and always so pleasant to talk with. She has become more of a reporter to our group; she has become a friend.

Our organization would like for the public to know that Granite City has a wonderful newspaper that's concerned with the welfare of the unwanted animals that have been in our care in the past.

We truly appreciate each and every one on the staff at the Granite City Press-Record.

LYNDA CARTER AS WONDER WOMAN

Will Wonder Woman become an 'angel' or a 'bionic'?

By DICK MAURICE
Press-Record
Hollywood Bureau

Will Wonder Woman become an Angel or a Bionic Woman? Reliable sources have it that Lynda Carter is the likely replacement for one of television's super-star leading ladies, if that actress utilizes the option in her contract and leaves her highly-rated series.

In television land, it's certain that blonde Farrah Fawcett Majors wants out of "Charlie's Angels" and that Lindsay Wagner wishes to star in movies rather than as the "Bionic Woman."

As for Lynda Carter's "Wonder Woman" TV program, ABC has notified the producers of that show that they don't have plans to continue the series after the current season.

So, Miss Carter would be free to either wear the halo of an angel or step into the shoes of the powerful bionic woman.

Summer of '77—lawn club and festival feast

Two new ticket-pricing specials for the summer of '77 should help make the Mississippi River Festival even more attractive to patrons, according to Festival Managing Director Lyke Ward.

"We're now offering the Festival Feast and a Lawn Lovers Club," said Ward. "The first is a special price for seven fine arts events at the MRF, held on the campus of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville."

For $25, patrons can purchase a package admission to all seven events that amounts to a 30 per cent saving.

"It comes to only 28 cents more than the price of lawn seating for each concert," said Ward, "and you can get reserved seating using this plan."

"We're holding a block of good reserved seats for this in anticipation of the response we expect."

The Festival Feast is good for the July 2, July 17 and Aug. 13 St. Louis Symphony Orchestra performances at the Festival site, as well as the Phyllis Lambuth Dance Company (July 12) in the campus Communications Building Theater, a Chamber Concert featuring Ruth Slenczynska (Aug. 11) in the University Center, Vivica Lindfors in "My Mother, My Son" (Aug. 11) in the Communications Building Theater and the Nikolais Dance Theater at the MRF site on July 30.

Another special, for members of the academic community, is the Lawn Lovers' Pass which, said Ward, "is designed to help students, faculty and staff of area high schools and universities stretch their budgets and take in some fine Festival performances."

The Lawn Lovers' Club, $12 for students and $20 for faculty and staff, gives free lawn seating at all fine arts events at the River Fest site, including six symphony performances, one theater program, one dance and two jazz performances.

In addition, there are a 30 per cent discount to all fine arts events held on campus away from the site, free admittance to St. Louis Symphony rehearsals at the site, and other discounts and special admissions.

For more information about either special, Quad-Cityans may contact Lois Lorton at the MRF office, 692-2996.

Ainad Compacts breakfast May 1

A sausage and pancake breakfast will be served from 7 a.m. to 1 p.m. Sunday, May 1, at the Masonic Temple, 20th Street and Cleveland Boulevard, by members of the Ainad Compacts, Vernie Clutts, chairman of the project, announced.

The chairman said the breakfast is open to the public and tickets costing $1.75 for adults and $1 for children are available from any member of the Compacts, and also may be purchased at the door on the day of the event.

Rockford courthouse collapse century ago

Collapse of the nearly completed new Winnebago County Courthouse in Rockford was the biggest news story for Illinois papers during May 1877.

The observance of Decoration Day, as Memorial Day was then called, was statewide and claimed as much or more newspaper space.

There were other happenings, but they were minor when compared to these two, according to a random check of century-old newspaper files from various parts of the state in the Illinois State Historical Library.

"The Rockford Catastrophe," as various stories were headlined in both the Chicago Inter Ocean and Springfield's Illinois State Journal, occurred at 11:30 a.m. on May 11.

At the moment of the crash, a workman "was engaged in setting the key stone of the top dome" 119 feet above the ground. He made a frantic grab for a guy rope but missed.

At the same moment, the entire interior of the building collapsed.

Col. W. D. Richardson of Springfield, contractor for the project, had gone to the dome with the building superintendent to inspect the structure, which they suspected was too weakly supported.

At the first sound of a crack, Richardson shouted, "For God's sake, run for your life." They made it to the west wall before the interior caved in.

Many of the workers were not so fortunate. There were "from 25 to 30 men at work on and around the building," and the early "list of killed and wounded," showed 11 dead and 12 injured, though both figures may have been increased later.

Springfield was particularly affected by the tragedy because seven of the dead and four of the injured lived in that city.

Col. Richardson had evidently recruited a crew of Springfield workmen, some of whom had worked on the then new state capitol.

The Winnebago County courthouse was described by the Illinois State Journal as being "French Venetian of the Renaissance variety," with the main dome above the front porch.

The dome was supported, by the exterior wall but, on the interior, brick walls about 30 feet high supported two iron columns "10 or 12 inches in diameter."

wrought iron girder upon which were laid the veneer and brick of the dome."

The brick walls "it appears were entirely inadequate to hold the immense weight . . . of the dome."

A coroner's jury placed "the responsibility for the accident upon the architect, Henry L. Gay of Chicago," a month-end item in the Alton Weekly Telegraph stated.

At Rockford's Decoration Day ceremony, ex-governor John L. Beveridge "made an allusion to our late courthouse disaster, which seemed eminently fitting upon such an occasion," according to the Inter Ocean.

The principal speaker at the ceremony was Gen. John A. Logan and the paper printed his entire speech—three and half columns of fine print.

Among other Illinois towns and cities where parades, speeches and ceremonies were held were Chicago, Springfield, Rock Island, Cairo, Decatur, Pontiac, Danville, Galesburg, Freeport, Elgin, Centralia, La Harpe and Mattoon.

Delegations from Mendota (now Troy Grove) for the observance, and Lincoln citizens took a train to Springfield.

Both public offices and businesses in general were closed for half the day at least, except that in Springfield the circuit court trial of the "Lincoln Tomb robbers" remained in session.

During May a hundred years ago, the Telegraph reported the death of Dr. Benjamin F. Edwards, younger brother of Ninian Edwards, Illinois' territorial governor and the third governor of the state.

The Inter Ocean told of a baby show where "Babdom and Babeldom seemed let loose." And the Bloomington Leader published the account of a young lady who, dressed in men's clothes, took a room at a boarding house to await the arrival of "his cousin" who showed up about a week later. The two left town just ahead of the first "cousin's" irate father.
